

A HISTORY OF WOMEN'S WRITING IN FRANCE

EDITED BY
SONYA STEPHENS

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

	page
Notes on contributors	vii
Introduction Sonya Stephens	1
1 Female voices in convents, courts and households: the French Middle Ages Roberta L. Krueger	10
2 To choose ink and pen: French Renaissance women's writing Cathleen M. Bauschatz	41
3 Altering the fabric of history: women's participation in the classical age Faith E. Beasley	64
4 The eighteenth century: women writing, women learning Jean Bloch	84
5 Eighteenth-century women novelists: genre and gender Martin Hall	102
6 The nineteenth century: shaping women Rosemary Lloyd	120
7 1900–1969: writing the void Alex Hughes	147
8 From order to adventure: women's fiction since 1970 Leslie Hill	168
9 Changing the script: women writers and the rise of autobiography Michael Sheringham	185

10	Women poets of the twentieth century Michael Bishop	204
11	Voicing the feminine: French women playwrights of the twentieth century Mary Noonan	220
12	Feminist literary theory Judith Still	236
 Bibliographies
1	General and reference works	251
2	Studies and histories of French women and their writing and of feminism	252
3	Women writers and their works	256
	Index	312