

Government and Politics in Western Europe

Britain, France, Italy, West Germany

YVES MÉNY

Translated by JANET LLOYD

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

1990

Contents

List of Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	I
Comparative Political Studies	I
The Common Heritage	2
The Affirmation of Pluralism	3
The Expression of Choice	4
The Limitation of Powers	5
The Rule of Law and Constitutionalism	6
Challenges Facing Contemporary Democracies	7
Participation	8
Representation	8
Identity	10
The Crisis of the Welfare State	10
Legitimacy and Violence	12
1. Politics and Society: Cleavages	15
Class and Politics	17
Religion and Politics	21
Church and State	22
Church and Society	25
Religious Values—Social Values	28
Territory and Politics	30
The Minority Parties	31
The Federalization of National Parties	33
Specificities of Political Behaviour	34
2. Political Parties	38
Ideology	40
Liberalism	41
The Conservative Parties	45
The Christian Democrats	49
The Divided Left	53
The 'Land' Parties: Regionalists and Ecologists	61

The Institutionalization and Organization of the Parties	65
The Institutionalization of the Parties	65
Party Organization	72
The Party System	83
The Two-Party or the Duopolistic System?	84
Multi-Party Systems	84
Concentration, Fragmentation, Coalitions	88
The Functions of the Political Parties	94
Integration and Mobilization	94
Influencing Voting Patterns	96
Recruitment of Political Personnel	97
Elaboration of Policies	98
3. Interest Groups	100
Organizational Factors	102
Constraints on Action	103
The Influence of Public Authorities	113
Interest Groups and the Political System	117
Where Interest Groups Apply Pressure	118
Politico-Administrative Cultures and Modes of Action	120
Pluralism, Oligarchy, or Neo-corporatism?	123
4. Voters, Elections, and the Elected	129
Electoral Systems	129
The Principle of Liberty	130
The Principle of Justice	133
The Majority Principle	140
Candidates and Elected Representatives: From Selection to Election	143
The Selection of Candidates	144
Elected Representatives	148
5. Parliaments	156
The Function of Representation: One or Two Chambers?	157
Legislation	162
The Division of Tasks	162
The Rules of the Game	170
Controlling the Executive	181
The Persistence and Limits of Traditional Forms of Control	182
A Reversal of the Traditional Hierarchy: The Primacy of Unsanctioned Controls	185
Conclusion	192

6. Presidents and Governments	195
The Executive	196
The Head of State	197
The Government: The Selection and Appointment of Ministers	205
Government Leadership	215
Governmental Cohesion	215
Determining Policies	223
Conclusion	235
 7. Local and Central Bureaucracies	 238
Administrative Structures	242
Central Bureaucracies	243
Peripheral Authorities	245
Specialized Bodies	257
Public Management of Productive Activities	260
The Civil Service	261
Recruitment, Training, and Careers	263
Senior Civil Servants and Politics	271
Controlling the Bureaucrats	288
Political Controls	288
Controls through the Courts	289
Conclusion	294
 8. Constitutional Courts	 296
Politics and the Judiciary: Organization and Interconnections	299
The Courts in the Juridico-Political System	300
The Juridical-Political Interface	303
Political or Juridical? Submissions, Proceedings, and Judgements	306
Modes of Submission	307
Procedures	310
Judgements: A United Front or Room for Dissent?	312
The Juridical and the Political: Abstract or Concrete Controls?	315
The Political and Juridical Tasks of Constitutional Judges	318
Constitutional Judges as the Guarantors of Constitutional Equilibrium	318
Constitutional Courts as the Protectors of Rights and Liberties	322
Conclusion	325

9. Challenges to Democratic Systems	328
Notes	333
Bibliography	351
Index	357