

Modernization and the Crisis of Development in Africa

The Nigerian Experience

JEREMIAH I. DIBUA
Morgan State University, USA

ASHGATE

Contents

List of Tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of Abbreviations	xiii
1 Introduction: “Experts,” Africanists and Africa’s Development Crisis	1
Weberian/Modernist Explanations of Africa’s Development Crisis	6
Postcolonial State, State-Centrism and Africa’s Development	9
Scope and Organization	13
2 Received Wisdom and Africa’s Development Trajectory	17
Concept of Modernization	20
Modernization and the African State	24
Modernization and Africa’s Development Trajectory before the 1980s	28
Economic Crisis, Neo-liberalism and the New Modernization	34
Bringing the State Back into the Development Process	42
Conclusion	45
3 Colonial Antecedents	53
Imposition of Colonial Rule	54
Indirect Rule and the Colonial Policy of Divide and Rule	58
Colonialism and the Nigerian State	62
Colonialism and the Nigerian Bourgeoisie	65
Colonial Reforms and Consolidation of Modernization, 1945-1960	66
Political Reforms	66
Economic Reforms	75
Conclusion	82
4 Democratic Experiments and Sustainable Democracy	89
The First Democratic Experiment, 1960-1966	90
Mohammed/Obasanjo’s Transition to Civil Rule Program, 1975-1979	97
The Second Democratic Experiment, 1979-1983	103
Endless Transition to Civil Rule, 1986-1998	112
“Credible” Transition to Civil Rule, 1998-1999	125

The Third Democratic Experiment and Sustainable Democracy	128
Conclusion	132
5 Technology Transfer and the Crisis of Industrialization	143
Problematic and Dialectics of Technology Transfer	145
Nigerian Government's Policy on Technology Transfer	150
Import Substitution Industrialization and Technology Transfer	155
Indigenous Technology and Industrialization	164
Conclusion	167
6 The Dialectics of Agricultural Transformation	173
Polemics of Agricultural Modernization	178
Modernization and Agricultural Development Trajectory	181
Integrated Rural Development Programs	185
National Accelerated Food Production Program	187
Operation Feed the Nation	187
Green Revolution	188
Directorate of Food, Roads and Rural Infrastructures	189
Agricultural Development Projects	190
Large-scale Capital-intensive Farms	195
River Basin Development Authorities and Large-scale Irrigation Schemes	199
Conclusion	204
7 Oil and Economic Development Strategies, 1970-1986	215
The Performance of Oil	216
Oil and Public Expenditure	222
Oil and Development Planning	232
Industrial Development	234
Economic Nationalism and the Indigenization Policy	239
Conclusion	242
8 Economic Crisis and Structural Adjustment Program	249
The Structural Adjustment Program	252
Devaluation and the Economic Crisis	255
SAP and the Manufacturing Sector	260
SAP, Agriculture and Rural Development	269
SAP and the Social Sector	272
Nigerian Women and SAP	273
Conclusion	274
9 State, Youth and Women's Movements, 1986-1998	281
The Students' Movement	282

Pre-SAP Students' Movement	282
The Anti-SAP Demonstrations	289
Students and the Transition to Civil Rule Programs	293
State-sponsored Feminism	295
Better Life Program	295
Family Support Program	304
Family Economic Advancement Program	305
Conclusion	308
10 Conclusion	315
Bibliography	327
Index	361