Russell
and
Analytic Philosophy

Edited by
A.D. IRVINE and G.A. WEDEKING

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS
Toronto Buffalo London
Contents

Preface vii
Introduction ix

Part One: Denoting, Names, and Descriptions

1. Russell on Names and Communication 3
   R.M. Sainsbury

2. The Power of Russell’s Criticism of Frege 22
   Simon Blackburn and Alan Code

3. The Interpretation of Russell’s “Gray’s Elegy” Argument 37
   Michael Pakaluk

4. The Origins of Russell’s Theory of Descriptions 66
   Francisco A. Rodríguez-Consuegra

5. Grammatical Form, Logical Form, and Incomplete Symbols 97
   Stephen Neale

6. Russell’s Strange Claim That “a exists” Is Meaningless Even When a Does Exist 140
   William G. Lycan
Contents

Part Two: Mind and Unity

7 Terms, Relations, Complexes 159
Nicholas Griffin

8 Why Russell Abandoned Russellian Propositions 193
Bernard Linsky

9 Wittgenstein versus Russell on the Analysis of Mind 210
Stuart Shanker

10 Regarding Privacy 243
R.E. Tully

Part Three: Logicism and Logic

11 Logicism and the Nature of Mathematical Reasoning 265
Michael Detlefsen

12 Russell’s Logicism and Categorical Logicisms 293
Jean-Pierre Marquis

13 Russell’s Early Philosophy of Logic 325
Judy Pelham

14 Functions and Propositional Functions in Principia Mathematica 342
Peter Hylton

15 Reconciling PM’s Ramified Type Theory with the Doctrine of the Unrestricted Variable of the Principles 361
Gregory Landini

Part Four: The Beginning of Analytic History

16 Russell Making History: The Leibniz Book 397
Graeme Hunter

Contributors and Editors 415

Index 419