

CONTENTS

Preface	vii–viii
 LEGAL MATERIALS AS A SOURCE FOR SOCIAL HISTORY
I Legal Materials as a Source for Early Medieval Social History	33–43
Rice University Studies 60/4. Houston, Texas, 1974
II The Barbarian Kings as Lawgivers and Judges	7–29
Life and Thought in the Early Middle Ages, ed. R. S. Hoyt. Minneapolis: University of Minnesota Press, 1967
III Class Distinctions in Eighth-Century Italy	61–95
Rice Institute Pamphlet XXXIX/3. Houston, Texas, 1952
IV Notes on Lombard Institutions	vii–viii 3–100
Rice Institute Pamphlet XLIII/2. Houston, Texas, 1956
V The Germanic Family of the Leges Burgundionum	5–14
Medievalia et Humanistica XV. Boulder, Colorado, 1963
VI The Family in Frankish Law	1–11
First publication
VII The Family in Visigothic Law	1–22
First publication

VIII	The Law of the Family in the Germanic Barbarian Kingdoms: A Synthesis	17-26
	Studies in Medieval Culture XI. Kalamazoo, Michigan, 1977

CAROLINGIAN AND POST-CAROLINGIAN ITALY

IX	The Immunity in Carolingian Italy	182-197
	Speculum XXXVII. Cambridge, Massachusetts, 1962
X	The Carolingian Military Frontier in Italy	437-447
	Traditio XX. New York, 1964
XI	Land Tenure and Social Status in Medieval Italy as Demonstrated by the Cartulary of Farfa	3-10
	Rice University Studies 58/4. Houston, Texas, 1972
XII	The Italian Monasteries of Nonantola, San Salvatore, and Santa Maria Teodota in the Eighth and Ninth Centuries	131-154
	Manuscripta IX. Saint Louis, Missouri, 1965

Comments and Corrections

Index

This volume contains viii + 294 pages.
--