

Language in Public Spaces in Japan

Edited by
Nanette Gottlieb

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vii
1. Introduction
Nanette Gottlieb	1
2. Public Signs as Narrative in Japan
Patricia J. Wetzel	3
3. Language Choices at Naha Airport
Patrick Heinrich	21
4. Multilingualism in Japanese Public Space – Reading the Signs
Peter Backhaus	37
5. Local Government Websites in Japan: International, Multicultural, Multilingual?
Tessa Carroll	51
6. Playing with Language in E-Japan: Old Wine in New Bottles
Nanette Gottlieb	71
7. Finding Mr Right: New Looks at Gendered Modernity in Japanese Televised Romances
Debra J. Occhi, Cindi L. SturtzSreetharan and Janet S. Shibamoto-Smith	87
8. Who Is To Say ‘Your Japanese Is Incorrect’? Reflection on ‘Correct’ Japanese Usages by Learners of Japanese
Chihiro Kinoshita Thomson	105
9. Partial Non-use of Interpreters in Japanese Criminal Court Proceedings
Ikuko Nakane	121
Index	139