
A General Equilibrium Model for Tax Policy Evaluation

Charles L. Ballard
Don Fullerton
John B. Shoven
John Whalley

The University of Chicago Press

Chicago and London

Contents

	Preface	ix
1.	Introduction	1
2.	General Equilibrium Analysis of Tax Policies	6
3.	The Single Period Submodel	25
	Appendix: Glossary of Notation	49
4.	Data on Intermediate Production and Value Added	55
	Appendix A: Correspondences between Our Producer Goods and Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) Categories	85
	Appendix B: Correspondences between Our Consumer Goods and Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) Categories	87
5.	Data on Household Income and Expenditure, Investment, the Government, and Foreign Trade	90
	Appendix: Correspondences between Our Consumer Goods and Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) Categories	110
6.	Adjustments to the Data Set and Specification of Parameters	113
7.	Dynamic Considerations	140
8.	Integration of the Corporate and Personal Income Taxes	153

9.	Replacing the Personal Income Tax with a Progressive Consumption Tax	171
10.	The Relationship between Tax Rates and Government Revenue	188
11.	Alternative Models of the Foreign Sector	203
12.	Concluding Remarks	235
	References	245
	Index	261