

SOVEREIGNTY AS RESPONSIBILITY

Conflict Management in Africa

Francis M. Deng
Sadikiel Kimarò
Terrence Lyons
Donald Rothchild
I. William Zartman

The Brookings Institution
Washington, D.C.

Contents

Preface	xi
1. Normative Framework of Sovereignty	1
Genesis of Sovereignty	2
Anatomy of Conflict in Africa	19
African Policy Agenda	23
Mediating Sovereignty, Responsibility, and Accountability	27
Responsible Sovereignty in Perspective	32
2. Governance	34
Conflicts to Be Managed	36
Ways of Management—How to Tame Conflict	42
Agents of Management—Who Governs?	49
Good Governance—African and International Roles	53
3. Identity	61
Anatomy of Identity	62
Conflict of Identities	66
Perspectives from the Case Studies	70
Identity Issues in Perspective	89
4. Economics	93
Long-Term Considerations in Managing Conflict	94
Policy Implications of Different Levels of Conflict	98
Domestic Management of Economic Conflicts	104
Regional Management of Economic Conflicts	114
International Management of Economic Conflict	124
Conclusion	129

x Contents

5. Regional Dynamics	131
Regional Security Systems	132
Regionalization of Conflict	145
Conclusions—Future Roles for Regional Organizations	165
6. International Actors	168
The Limits of Mediation	170
Agencies of Intervention	171
The Problems of Postagreement Peace Building	203
Conclusion	207
7. Conclusion	211
Notes	225
Index	255