
Economic Systems and State Finance

Edited by

Richard Bonney

European Science Foundation

CLARENDON PRESS

1995

CONTENTS

List of Figures	xvii
Introduction by Richard Bonney	I

PART I

THE MIDDLE AGES: DEVELOPMENTS AND CONTINUITIES

1. Medieval and Renaissance Theories of State Finance by Eberhard Isenmann	21
1.1 Theories and Theoreticians	21
1.2 Early Church Fathers, Jurists, Scholastics and Moral Theologians on Taxation	23
1.3 The Justification of Taxation	28
1.4 The System of 'Causae' with Regard to 'Just' Taxation	31
1.5 'Specula Regis': Political and Reforming Tracts on Public Finance and Taxation	37
1.6 Empirical Analysis and Theoretical Insights towards the End of the Middle Ages	44
2. The Feudal Structure and the Beginnings of State Finance by W. M. Ormrod and János Barta	53
2.1 The Early Germanic Kingdoms	54
2.2 Early Experiments in Taxation	56
2.3 Feudalism and State Finance	58
2.4 Fiscal Institutions and Early Accounts	62
2.5 The Church, the Crusades and the Challenge of Taxation .	68
2.6 The Exercise of Authority and the Purchase of Immunity	70
2.7 Europe in 1200: The Emerging Trends	71
2.8 The Holy Roman Empire	73
2.9 The East European Experience: Bohemia, Poland and Hungary	75

2.10 Conclusion	79
3. City-State and Market Economy by Jean-Claude Hocquet	81
3.1 The Characteristics of the City-State	82
3.2 The Fiscal System of the Italian City-States	85
3.3 The Fiscal System of the German City-States	91
3.4 Later Fiscal Developments in the Italian City-States	95
3.5 Conclusion	99
4. Kingdoms on the Periphery of Europe: The Case of Medieval and Early Modern Scandinavia by Bjørn Poulsen	101
4.1 Domains and Taxes	101
4.2 Trends in the Early Royal Economy of Scandinavia	104
4.3 Commutation Taxes in the Twelfth and Thirteenth Centuries	107
4.4 The Victory of Extraordinary Taxes	110
4.5 Crisis and Consolidation of the Domain State, 1350–1500	113
4.6 State Finance in Scandinavia on the Threshold of Modernity	116
5. The West European Monarchies in the Later Middle Ages by W. M. Ormrod	123
5.1 The Forces for Change	123
5.2 The Symptoms of Change	127
5.3 The Evolution of Direct Taxation	128
5.4 The Church and Taxation	132
5.5 Indirect Taxation	133
5.6 Towards a Quantitative Comparison	136
5.7 The Early Fourteenth Century	138
5.8 The Late Fourteenth Century	144
5.9 The Later Fifteenth Century	149
5.10 The Late Middle Ages in Context	155

PART II

THE EVOLUTION OF THE STATE SYSTEM AFTER 1500

6. Early Modern Theories of State Finance by Richard Bonney	163
---	-----

6.1	Sovereignty and the Fiscal Powers of the State	166
6.2	Mercantilism and the Spanish 'Arbitristas'	171
6.3	Mercantilism and 'Political Arithmetic' in England	176
6.4	Populationism, Cameralism and the Fiscal implications of the State's Human Resources	183
6.5	France: The Search for Fiscal Reform, Physiocracy and the Tax on Net Income	189
6.6	'Paper Money Mercantilism' and Its Critics	206
6.7	The Classical Theory: Smith, Ricardo and Malthus	212
6.8	Conclusion	222
7.	The Spanish System: Centre and Periphery by Giovanni Muto	231
7.1	The Financial Relations of Centre and Periphery	234
7.2	The Organization and Structure of Public Finance	241
7.3	The Relationship between the Spanish Habsburg Empire and the International Financial Markets	245
7.4	The Financial Policy of the Spanish Habsburgs	253
8.	The Emergence and Consolidation of the 'Tax State'. I. The Sixteenth Century by Winfried Schulze	261
8.1	The Conceptual Debate on the Growth of the Fiscal State in the Sixteenth Century	262
8.2	Prerequisites of European State Formation in the Sixteenth Century	264
8.3	The Rise in Taxation and the Growth of the 'Public Sector' in the Sixteenth Century	268
8.4	Types of Fiscal System in Sixteenth-Century Europe	270
8.5	Rebellions against Taxation	273
8.6	Conclusion: The Success of Taxation in the Sixteenth Century	276
9.	The Emergence and Consolidation of the 'Tax State'. II. The Seventeenth Century by Marjolein 't Hart	281
9.1	Wars and New Centres of Power	282
9.2	The Transition to the Modern 'Tax State'	283
9.3	The Novelty of Permanent State Indebtedness	286
9.4	'State Making' and Domestic Contention	288
9.5	Conclusion	293

10. The Eighteenth Century. I. The Finances of the Austrian Monarchy and the Italian States by Carlo Capra	295
10.1 The Financial Structure in the Austrian Lands to 1740	296
10.2 The Situation in the Italian Lands before 1740	299
10.3 The Reign of Maria Theresa to c.1756	301
10.4 The Impact of Cameralist Ideas and the Reforms of Kaunitz and Joseph II	304
10.5 The Financial Position in the Italian Lands on the Eve of the Revolution	310
11. The Eighteenth Century. II. The Struggle for Great Power Status and the End of the Old Fiscal Regime by Richard Bonney	315
11.1 The Fiscal Outcome of Louis XIV's Later Wars	319
11.2 The Fiscal Outcome of the Great War of the North and the Rise of 'Enlightened Despotism'	329
11.3 The Outcome of the Seven Years' War and the New Colonial Struggle	336
11.4 The French Revolution: The Epoch of Paper Inflation	347
11.5 Napoleon: The Return to Monetary Orthodoxy and the Financial Exploitation of Continental Europe	355
11.6 Reform in the Ancien Régime Monarchies and Resistance to French Expansionism (to c.1815)	360
11.7 The Cost of Achieving British Economic and Financial Hegemony	377
11.8 Conclusion	386

PART III
STRUCTURES

12. Expenditure by Martin Körner	393
12.1 Problems of Perspective and Method	393
12.2 Theorists and Theories of Expenditure	396

12.3	The Volume of Expenditure	398
12.4	The Pattern of Expenditure during the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Centuries	402
12.5	The Structure of Expenditure in the Sixteenth Century	406
12.6	The Structure of Expenditure in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries	409
12.7	Conclusion: The Evolution of Expenditure in the Long Term	414
13.	Revenues
	by Richard Bonney	423
13.1	Fiscal Constitutions: Coercion, Consent and Administration	431
13.2	Revenue Collection, Revenue Unification and the Assignment of Revenues	438
13.3	Lands, Enterprise and Colonies: Types of Early Modern Domain State	447
13.4	Monetization, Coinage Profits and Fiduciary Issues	463
13.5	Direct Taxes	472
13.6	Indirect Taxes	488
13.7	Conclusion	500
14.	Public Credit
	by Martin Körner	507
14.1	The Later Middle Ages	508
14.2	The Sixteenth Century	515
14.3	The Seventeenth Century	524
14.4	Conclusion: The Achievements of the Eighteenth Century	532
15.	The Fiscal Burden
	by Juan Gelabert	539
15.1	Taxation and Politics	540
15.2	Taxation and the Reformation	546
15.3	The Social Implications of Taxation	549
15.4	Tapping the Wealth of the Privileged	552
15.5	The Fiscal Burden in the Sixteenth Century	557
15.6	The Fiscal Burden in the Seventeenth Century	564
15.7	Conclusion: The Fiscal Burden and the Economy	571

Appendix: The European State Finance Database and the Graphical Presentation of Data by Richard Bonney	577
Bibliography	581
List of Contributors	629
Index by Richard Bonney	631

LIST OF FIGURES

1. American and European bullion flows, 1501-1800 (expressed in metric tonnes)	11
2. English and French mint output, 1300-1799 (expressed in money of account)	12
3. Danegeld and the total money supply in England, 991-1018 (in £ of account)	58
4. Danegeld and the total money supply in England, 991-1018 (expressed in metric tonnes of fine silver)	59
5. Revenues of the English crown, 1129-1130 (in £ sterling of account)	65
6. Debts from earlier years accounted for in the English Exchequer in 1129-1130 (in £ sterling of account)	65
7. Selected revenues of the French crown, 1179-1221 (in livres tournois)	67
8. Royal revenues in medieval Hungary at various periods (expressed in metric tonnes of pure silver)	77
9. Revenues and expenditure of the Aabenraa Amt, duchy of Schleswig, 1535-1539 (in Lübeck marks)	102
10. Categories of revenues of the Aabenraa Amt, duchy of Schleswig, 1535-1539 (in Lübeck marks)	103
11. Categories of estimated Danish royal revenues in c.1231 and in c.1500	109
12. Revenue of the Danish central administration, 1513-1523 (in Danish marks)	117
13. Revenues of the Swedish royal chamber, 1527-1537 (in örtug marks)	119
14. Total debt of the Danish king, 1534-1548 (in Lübeck marks)	120
15. Total French Treasury receipts from ordinary revenue, 1322-1340 (expressed in livres tournois and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	139
16. Ordinary revenue of the English crown, 1322-1340 (expressed in £ sterling and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	140
17. Ordinary and extraordinary receipts as percentages of total French Treasury receipts, 1322-1340	141
18. Categories of extraordinary revenue to the French Treasury, 1322-1330	141
19. Extraordinary revenues of the English crown, 1327-1343 (in £ sterling)	143

20. Total French Treasury receipts and notional total English revenue, 1322–1345 (expressed in metric tonnes of fine silver)	143
21. Total notional revenue of the Castilian crown, 1369–1401 (expressed in maravedís and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	145
22. Categories of notional receipts of the English crown, 1370–1410	146
23. Total national revenue of the English crown, 1370–1410 (expressed in £ sterling and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	147
24. Notional receipts of the English crown, 1462–1485 (expressed in £ sterling)	149
25. Total notional revenue of the English crown, 1462–1485 (expressed in £ sterling and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	151
26. Categories of ordinary revenues of the Castilian crown, 1429–1465	152
27. Servicios granted by the Cortes of Castile, 1407–1474 (expressed in maravedís and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	153
28. Ordinary receipts and servicios received by the Castilian crown, 1429–1474 (expressed in maravedís and in metric tonnes of fine silver)	154
29. Notional revenue of the French crown, 1460 and 1483 (in livres tournois)	155
30. Loans to the Spanish Treasury, 1520–1575 (in ducats)	246
31. Receipts of the military Treasury of the Spanish army in Flanders, 1567–1671 (in florins)	249
32. Loans contracted by the Spanish Treasury, by national groups, 1520–1556 (in ducats)	250
33. Categories of ordinary net revenue of the Austrian monarchy, 1740–1778 (in florins)	308
34. Categories of ordinary expenditure of the Austrian monarchy, 1729–1778 (in florins)	308
35. Categories of net revenue and expenditure of the Austrian monarchy, 1781–1792 (in florins)	309
36. Revenue of the state of Milan, 1761–1794 (in Milan lire)	313
37. Anglo-Portuguese trade and arrivals of Brazilian gold, 1701–1810 (expressed in cruzados)	323
38. Total manpower of the Danish–Norwegian and Dutch armies, 1680–1769 (manpower in tens of thousands)	328
39. Total revenue and total expenditure of Prussia, 1688–1764 (in talers)	334
40. Total revenues of the French and English monarchies, 1660–1775 (expressed in livres tournois)	337
41. Life rents and tontines in France, 1733–1788 (in livres tournois)	344
42. Revenue from direct taxes in France, 1792–1829 (in francs)	353
43. Total French expenditure, 1801–1850 (in francs)	357

44. Total revenue and total expenditure of Prussia, 1765–1806 (in talers)	366
45. Categories of Russian expenditure and revenue, including borrowing, 1762–1825 (in roubles)	369
46. Russian deflated expenditure and revenue, including borrowing, 1769–1815 (expressed in deflated assignat roubles)	370
47. The value of the rentas provinciales in Castile, 1730–1807 (in reales de vellón)	373
48. Net revenue of the Spanish General Treasury, 1788–1820 (in reales de vellón)	373
49. Total income of the Spanish General Treasury and the Madrid Treasury, 1784–1807 (in reales de vellón)	374
50. Categories of expenditure of the British government, 1685–1813 (expressed as five-year centred moving averages in £ sterling)	380
51. Military expenditure of the British government, 1685–1813 (expressed as five-year centred moving averages in £ sterling, nominal and deflated figures)	381
52. Great Britain: civil and war expenditure and subsidies to allies, 1790–1816 (in £ sterling)	383
53. Subsidy payments by the British government to its allies, 1793–1816 (in £ sterling)	384
54. Categories of expenditure of the Holy Roman Empire, European principalities and kingdoms, c.1360–1504	403
55. Categories of expenditure of European republics and towns, c.1360–1500	403
56. Categories of expenditure of European republics and towns, 1500–1610	407
57. Categories of expenditure of the Holy Roman Empire, European principalities and kingdoms, 1500–1600	407
58. Categories of expenditure of north European principalities and kingdoms, 1602–1700	410
59. Categories of expenditure of south European principalities and kingdoms, 1600–1702	410
60. Categories of expenditure of European republics and towns, 1600–1700	413
61. Categories of expenditure of European republics and towns, 1703–1802	413
62. Categories of expenditure of duchies, kingdoms and empires of the Baltic region, 1700–1800	415
63. Categories of expenditure of non-Baltic duchies, kingdoms and empires, 1700–1799	415

64. Expenditure of the city and state of Lucerne, 1435–1795 (expressed in Lucerne gulden and in kilos of fine silver)	418
65. French royal expenditure, 1600–1785 (expressed in metric tonnes of fine silver)	418
66. French royal expenditure in the seventeenth century (expressed in metric tonnes of fine silver)	420
67. Expenditure of the city of Nuremberg, 1430–1551 (expressed in £ of money of account and in metric tonnes of silver)	420
68. Expenditure of the city of Nuremberg, 1617–1794 (expressed in gulden of money of account and in metric tonnes of silver)	421
69. Total expenditure of Prussia, Sweden, Denmark and Russia, 1720–1808 (expressed in metric tonnes of silver)	422
70. Categories of ordinary and extraordinary revenues from the Austrian Habsburg hereditary lands, 1650–1699 (in florins)	428
71. Categories of revenues of the Swedish state, 1722–1809 (in riksdalers)	429
72. Categories of domestic revenues of the Swedish state, 1722–1809 (in riksdalers)	429
73. Categories of ordinary revenue in France, 1600–1695 (in livres tournois)	449
74. Revenue and expenditure of the Danish rentmeisters , 1588–1628 (in rigsdalers)	453
75. Revenue and expenditure of the Danish rentmeisters excluding loans, debt servicing and surplus revenue, 1588–1628 (in rigsdalers)	453
76. Revenue from the Sound toll set against total revenues of the Danish monarchy, 1731–1806 (in rigsdalers)	457
77. The avería levied on outward and return cargoes between Castile and the Indies, 1560–1638 (in maravedís)	457
78. Eleven-year moving averages of total revenues of the Mexico and Lima Treasuries, 1587–1812 (in pesos de ocho)	459
79. Categories of income of the Spanish General Treasury, 1788–1820 (in reales de vellón)	459
80. Categories of income of the Madrid Treasury, 1784–1807 (in reales de vellón)	461
81. Revenue from taxes on land and total domestic revenue in Sweden set against total money supply, 1741–1803 (in riksdalers)	465
82. Florentine forced loans, 1390–1480 (in florins)	477
83. Categories of revenue to the British government, 1798–1816 (in £ sterling)	488
84. Revenue from sheep in Foggia, 1445–1805 (in ducats)	493

85. Revenue to the state of Lucerne from taxes on wine sales, 1421-1798 (in Lucerne gulden)	493
86. Eleven-year moving averages of index numbers for total revenue from taxation in England, 1290-1815, set against deflated index numbers for this revenue	503
87. Revenue from indirect taxation as a percentage of total taxation in England, 1315-1815	503
88. Interest rates at Genoa of the consolidated debt, 1340-1407	515
89. Interest rates on the public debt of various states, 1504-1598	521
90. The growth of interest on loans and life rents in Basle, 1501-1611 (expressed in French écus)	523
91. The growth of public loans and debts in nine Swiss towns, 1501-1611 (expressed in French écus)	523
92. Royal borrowing and affaires extraordinaires in France, 1610-1645, set against mint output (in livres tournois)	526
93. The public debt of Naples, 1562-1631 (in ducats)	526
94. The public debt of Venice at the Banco di Rialto , 1619-1666 (in ducats di Banco)	529
95. Interest rates on Austrian loans, 1700-1780	537
96. Per capita royal tax receipts in France, 1560-1779 (expressed in livres tournois and in bushels of wheat)	563
97. Per capita royal tax receipts in France, 1560-1789 (expressed in livres tournois , hectolitres of wheat and man-days)	563