

HOW LIKE A GOD

DEIFICATION IN JAPANESE RELIGION

SATO HIROO

translated by David Noble

Contents

Preface to the English Edition v

INTRODUCTION

When Humans Become Gods 1

CHAPTER 1

The Birth of the Imperial Spirits 13

1. "Imperial Spirits" as Divine Beings.....13
2. "Living Gods" (Akitsukami).....22
3. Mountains: The Abode of the Gods..... 27

CHAPTER 2

From Dead Souls to Deities 39

1. Dawn of the Gods 39
2. Jōmon Gods and Yayoi Gods.....47
3. Memorialized Spirits 54

CHAPTER 3

New Deities and the Tumuli 59

1. The Hashihaka Tomb Mound 59
2. Why Were the Immense Tomb Mounds Constructed? 66
3. Forms of Ritual at the Tomb Mounds 73

CHAPTER 4

Between Hitogami and Mononoke 81

1. Dead Souls Running Rampant 81
2. Beginnings of the Goryō Cult 90
3. Characteristics of the Gods of Antiquity 97

CHAPTER 5

Escorts to the Other Shore 105

1. The Distant Pure Land 105
2. The Cult of Holy Men and Sacred Places 116
3. Searching for the Primal Deity 124

CHAPTER 6

The Undeparted Dead 133

1. Divinity in Grasses, Trees, and the Earth Itself 133
2. Shape-Shifters 140
3. Gonsha and Jissha 149

CHAPTER 7

The Ideology of Tōshō Daigongen 155

1. Kami in Competition 155
2. The Deified Ieyasu..... 162
3. Secular Rulers Aspire to Godhead 168

CHAPTER 8

The Heyday of Living Gods 177

1. The Deification of Ordinary People 177
2. Changing Aspects of Pilgrimage 185
3. The Conception of the Divine in Popular Religion 191

CHAPTER 9

The Road to Yasukuni Shrine 199

1. Toward Human Gods 199
2. What Study of the Divine May Bring to Light 207
3. Hitogami in Modern Times..... 212

Afterword 219

Notes 223

Bibliography 231

Image credits 251

Index 253