

ECONOMIC CHANGE AND POLITICAL LIBERALIZATION
IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

EDITED BY JENNIFER A. WIDNER

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY PRESS / Baltimore and London

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	vii
Map of Africa	x
Introduction	1
Jennifer A. Widner
PART 1: THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES	11
One: The Impulse to Reform in Africa	13
Robert H. Bates
Two: Through the Structural Adjustment Minefield: Politics in an Era of Economic Liberalization	29
Barbara Grosh
PART 2: CASE STUDIES	47
Three: Political Reform in Anglophone and Francophone African Countries	49
Jennifer A. Widner
Four: Structural Adjustment, Rent Seeking, and Liberalization in Benin	80
Richard Westebbe
Five: Economic Crisis and Political Realignment in Zambia	101
Michael Bratton

Six: Neopatrimonialism and Democracy in Africa, with an Illustration from Cameroon 129

Nicolas van de Walle

Seven: The Rise and Fall of the One-Party State in Tanzania 158

Mwesiga Baregu

Eight: The Dilemmas of Explaining Political Upheaval: Ghana in Comparative Perspective 182

Jeffrey Herbst

PART 3: DIRECTIONS 199

Nine: Structuring State-Society Relations in Africa: Toward an Enabling Political Environment 201

Donald Rothchild

Ten: Democratization in Africa: The Contradictions of a Political Imperative 230

Crawford Young

PART 4: EPILOGUE 251

Creating a Research Agenda for the Study of Political Change in Africa 253

Ernest J. Wilson III

Bibliography 273

Notes on Contributors 297

Index 299