OPENING

Welcoming Addresses

P.P. Canisius, Chairman, Organizing Committee, F.R.G. 3
H. Engler, Minister for Science and Arts, F.R.G. 7
W. Löhner, UNESCO Representative, France 8
M.W. Hill, FID President, U.K. 11
H.P. Geh, IFLA President, F.R.G. 13

Keynote Address

Information Technology and Cultural Diversity
T. Yamamoto, Japan (only abstract available) 17

COMPLEX SYSTEMS

Chairperson: C.-C. Chen, U.S.A.

The Status and Development of Czechoslovak National Centre for Automated Data Exchange / NCADE
Z. Vanek, Czechoslovakia 21

A Supplementary MIS to an Online Integrated Library System at the Université du Québec à Rimouski
G. Mercure, Canada 27

MIKROPOLIS as Idea Processor and Textbase Management System
B. Lutes-Schaab, R. McCall and W. Schuler, F.R.G. 35

The Use of a Microcomputer as a User-Interface Manager in a Large Information Retrieval System
D. Matei and B. Teodorescu, Rumania 44

The (IV+V) System Software Package: Technical Description
I. Mistrik, G. Kerschhackel and H. Oberhuber, F.R.G. 52

An Augmented Microcomputer for Relational Database Implementation
M.R. Muraszkiewicz, Poland 62

Computer-Generated Subject Oriented Data-Base
Z. Levy, Israel 71

SPECIFIC APPLICATION IN LIBRARIES 1

Chairperson: K.-D. Lehmann, F.R.G.

Microcomputers in Academic Libraries: Current Applications & Future Impact
W.R. Converse, Canada 83

SIAS-Siemens Library Lending System for the Siemens PC
A. Hahn, F.R.G. 91

OCLC M300 in a Large Research Library
I. Morita, Japan 96

The Online Information System of the University of Freiburg Library as Part of a Local Area Network. A Case Study
H.-A. Ruppert, F.R.G. 100

A Survey on the Use of Micros in Special Libraries
T. Krieger, U.S.A. 106

Using a Micro-Computer to Do Research and Keep Control of the Job
E. Nyang, U.S.A. 113

Microcomputer Based Union Catalogue of Periodical Holdings: BHEL Experience
V.V.V. Satyanarayana, India 117

APPLICATION SOFTWARE
Chairperson: R. Albrecht, Austria

Satisfying the Requirements of the Information Broker
R. Makay, F.R.G. 123

PERCICO, a New User-Friendly System for Periodicals Control and Circulation
H.-E. Malmberg, Sweden 131

Design of Personal Information Retrieval Systems
M. Agosti and F. Spilotro, Italy 134

A Software Package for In-House Searching of Downloaded Data
J.A. Large and C.J. Armstrong, U.K. 142

SOMA – A System for Personal Notes Retrieval
B. Teodorescu and D. Matei, Rumania 147

The Application of Mikro Polydoc in the International Reference Centre for Community Water Supply and Sanitation (IRC)
C.H. Dietvorst, The Netherlands 153

Use of Microcomputers in Australian and Nigerian Libraries
J. Italia Sanober, India 160

DATALIB: A Package on Personal Computer for Libraries
S. Rovagnati, Italy 163

EDP-Microfilm-Integrated-Retrieval (EMIR)
J. Stillger, F.R.G. 168

The Use of a Chinese Card in Multi-Language Information Processing
R. Wong, Hong Kong 175

EXISTING SYSTEMS
Chairperson: Z. Levy, Israel

Micro-Computer for Managing of Banana Bibliographical Information
R. Beccera, Panama 185

A Reference-Librarian Model for Computer-Aided Library Instruction
R.D. Binkley and J.R. Parrott, Canada 190

Participation in Computer Conferencing from a Workstation
W. Krumholz, F.R.G. 197

Using a Microcomputer for the Administration of the Interlibrary Loan, Mainly Requests for Photocopies
F. Noel-Lambot and A. Somville, Belgium 200

Associative Retrieval System
Z. Yakubovitz, Israel 209

Existing Systems – Experiences and Implications for Future Developments
W. Koch, Austria 215

SPECIFIC APPLICATION IN LIBRARIES 2
Chairperson: A. Wysocki, The Netherlands

Using Microcomputers to Provide Library Services to the Invisible User of an Academic Library
L. Wert, U.S.A. 221

Retrospective Data Conversion with or without the Use of Micro-Computers
G.A. Kósa, Australia 229

Improvements to Services and Access to Management Information Gained by Introduction of a Multi-User Microcomputer System
S. Hills, U.K. 237

The Development of a Multi-User Microcomputer System for Small Libraries
H. Dyer and P. Leggate, U.K. 244

The Development of the National Library Automation System – Requirements and Possibilities
L. Kovačević, Yugoslavia 251

Microcomputers and Organisational Change – The UK Public Library Experience
C. Batt, U.K. 257

ELECTRONIC PUBLISHING
Chairperson: R.L. Hunsucker, The Netherlands

Electronic Publishing and the Challenge of Microcomputers
O. Standera, Canada 267

Electronic Publishing of Technical and Scientific Texts
W. Gewecke, F.R.G. 277

Bibliographic Description of Articles in a Full-Text Database in No-Journal Era
Y. Nakamura, Japan 285

Floppy Discs – A New Publishing Experience
G. Robbie and D. Barlow, U.K. 291

Text Entry Systems for Scientific Authors
M. Krüger, F.R.G. 295

APPLICATION IN SPECIFIC DISCIPLINES 1
Chairperson: A. Helal, F.R.G.

Development of an Inter-Institution Cooperative Documentation System with a Minicomputer Network Structure
D. Seydel, F.R.G. 299

Factual-Type Online Databases. Downloading and Local Processing of Statistical Data with AREMOS
J.L. Staud, F.R.G. 308

Possibilities of Microcomputers Application in Czechoslovak Water Management Network
P. Stančíková, Czechoslovakia 320

A Project of Shared Cataloguing on Micro-Computers for Theological Libraries
R.-F. Poswick and G. Servais, Belgium 327

On the Way of Developing Knowledge-Based Systems in the Social Sciences
H. Mueller, F.R.G. 330

Microcomputers of Service to a Database System of Plant Genetic Resources
M. Waldman and S. Weitz-Ingber, Israel (only abstract available) 335

DECISION MAKING CRITERIA AND ECONOMIC ASPECTS
Chairperson: P. Simmons, Canada

Automation Support for the Management Function in Libraries and Information Centres
J.E. Rush, U.S.A. 339

Obtaining Qualified and Up-to-Date Information on Microcomputers in Information, Documentation and Libraries
H.G. Koerner, F.R.G. 347

Man Power Planning for a Library or an Information Centre: A Microcomputer Based Operational and Instructional System
F.J. Devadason, India 354

Micro-Computers in Information Management: A Sectoral Study in Portuguese Industry
J.T. Castro, A.M.R. Correia and R. Magalhaes, Portugal 362

Automation of a University Medical Library on a Micro-Computer Network: The Beer Sheva Experience
L. Frenkiel and B. Aronson, Israel 366

EDUCATION AND TRAINING 1
Chairperson: D.B. Cleveland, U.S.A.

Microcomputer Programming in the Information Science Curriculum
D.B. Cleveland and A.D. Cleveland, U.S.A. 373

Online Databases and the Application of Micro-Computers in Secondary Schools
P. Tieleman and Ch. Wolf, The Netherlands 379

Microcomputers in the Curricula of the Africa Regional Centre for Information Science (ARCIS)
W.O. Aiyepeku and G.A. Alabi, Nigeria 388

Micro-Computer Laboratories in Library Schools: A Case Study
T. Crowley, U.S.A. 397

IMAGE PROCESSING
Chairperson: D.J. Watson, U.K.

The Substitutibility of Images for Textual Description of Archival Materials in an MS-DOS Environment
M.E. Rorvig, U.S.A. 407

Transmission and Display of Text and Graphics Illustrated by the Example of Patent Information
W. Niedermeyr, F.R.G. 416

EXPERT SYSTEMS
Chairperson: R. Kuhlen, F.R.G.

KOFIS: An Expert System for Information Retrieval in Offices
H.-J. Appelrath, M. Ester, H. Jasper and A. Ultsch, Switzerland 427

Graphical Interaction with a Full-Text Oriented Information System: The Retrieval Component of the End User Interface TOPOGRAPHIC
U. Thiel and R. Hammwoehner, F.R.G. 434

Software Tools for Information and Library Microcomputer Expert Systems
M. Muraszkiewicz and H. Rybiński, Poland 445

Keynote Address

Between Networks and Independent Solutions within a World of Open Systems
N. Szyperski, F.R.G. (abstract and paper not available) 454

NETWORKS
Chairperson: J. Michel, France

Local Area Network or Multi-User System: Two Approaches to Library Automation Using Micro-Computers
M. Grieves, U.K. (only abstract available) 457

Infolink and Dialout – For Information Retrieval
B. Stanley, Sweden 458

A Technological Information Project in Argentina
D.A. Freschi, Argentina 463

Computerization of Libraries and Documentation Centres: The ESAMI Case
A. Musana and M. Lewanika, Tanzania 466

A Network of Personal Documentation Systems
V.H. Haase, Austria 473

SYSTEMS REQUIREMENTS

Chairperson: H.-J. Schneider, F.R.G.

Planning, Implementing and Managing the Electronic Library, or The Electronic Library Manager's Guide to Life
D.I. Raitt, The Netherlands 479

Selecting Database Management Software for Micro-Computers in Libraries and Information Units
K.A.O. Pieskä, Finland 490

ALLEGRO – Handling Bibliographic Data on Microcomputers
B. Eversberg, F.R.G. 497

Problems with Information Systems on Small Computers
M. Kozarinsky and M. Khalepski, Israel 503

The Structure and Usage of a "Referation" Database on Microcomputers for Personal Document Management
I. Asai, Japan 510

Storage and Retrieval of Text, Graphics and Images
W.-D. Guercke, F.R.G. 518

Illusions of Grandeur
D. Shinners-Kennedy and D. Tocher, Ireland 524

Use of Microcomputer Software for Discipline Specific Searching
C. Mundy and D. Meyer, U.S.A. 531

SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Chairperson: M.H. Wali, Nigeria

Finding the Right Role for Microcomputers in Information Systems in Developing Countries
T. Woodward, U.K. 537

The Application of Micro-Computers in Libraries: A Case Study on Brazil
N. Figueiredo, Brazil 543

Problems and Possibilities of Computer Application in Library Automation and Information Work in Nigeria
F.N. Ubogu and D.K. Gupta, Nigeria 549

Micro-Computers and Libraries in Developing Countries: The Egyptian Experience
U. El-Said Mahmoud Aly, Egypt (only abstract available) 556

The Use of Microcomputers in Libraries with Special Reference to Problems Encountered in Developing Countries
J. Lankage, Sri Lanka 557

UNESCO's Regional Energy Information Networks and their Associated Computer Applications
C.M. Gottschalk, France (only abstract available) 564

Application of Microcomputers in Developing Countries: Some Problems
I. Rua, Colombia 565

Issues in the Application of Micro-Computers in Information, Documentation and Libraries in English-Speaking West Africa
M. Adeyemi, Nigeria (only abstract available) 569

Developing Countries and Library Networks: Dial-Up Facilities Using Microcomputers as an Alternative to Permanent Tie-Ins
M. Matza and H. Roman, Venezuela 570

Information Retrieval for Micro-Computers
H. Vega Posada, Peru (only abstract available) 576

Introducing Micro-Computers for National Bibliographic Control Activities in Developing Countries
T.E. Mlaki, Tanzania 577

EDUCATION AND TRAINING 2
Chairperson: R. Kuhlen, F.R.G.

Development and Application of Micro-Computer Software in a Postgraduate Course for Information Transfer and Management
R. Kuhlen, F.R.G. 587

Microcomputers in Library Education
N.S. Yaghmai, U.S.A. 605

The Pan African Documentation and Information System's Experience in Education and Training for Libraries, Information Professionals and Users in Africa
F. Inganji, Ethiopia 612

Information Retrieval Methods Teaching for Everybody
R. Coll-Vinent, Spain (abstract) 616

Some Thoughts on Training Programmes for Modernising Library and Information Systems and Services in India
T.N. Rajan, India 617

Moving from Mainframe to Micros: Applications Programming for Library and Information Science
C.H. Davis, U.S.A. (only abstract available) 622

Keynote Address

Microcomputer-Based Workstations: An Opportunity to Develop the European Information Market
C. Jansen van Rosendaal, Luxemburg 623

WORKSTATIONS
Chairperson: P.L. Noerr, U.K.

Online Searching with Microcomputers – Advantages for the User
C.-D. Siems, F.R.G. 637

Microcomputer Support for Retrospective Conversion
K.M. Hays, U.S.A. 643

The Micro Work Station as an Information Tool
D.H. Elazar, Israel 649

Interactive Videodisc Technology and Microcomputers:
A Case Presentation on Project Emperor-I
C.-C. Chen, U.S.A. 657

APPLICATION IN SPECIFIC DISCIPLINES 2

Chairperson: C. Keren, Israel

National Feed Database in Australia
H.T. Ostrowski-Meissner, N. Jackson and N.H. Westwood, Australia 665

Food and Nutrition Microcomputer Demonstration Center
R.C. Frank, U.S.A. 672

ALPHA4000: The Input of Musicological and Musical Information in a Database
C. Schnell, Switzerland 675

Microcomputers in Archives: Requirements and Consequences
A. Menne-Haritz, F.R.G. 684

Serials Control and the Microcomputer in the Library
T. Williams, U.S.A. 690

Micro-Computer for IFIC Activities
L. Robles-Austriaco, Thailand 695

The Application of Micro-Computers in a Computerized Management Information System on Standardization
P.V. Nesterov, U.S.S.R. 700

Development of a Prototype Network for the Exchange of Archival and Bibliographic Information between Holocaust Documentation Centers in the USA and Abroad
B. Chamberlin, L.F. Karr and M. Courtot, U.S.A. 705

Application of Microcomputer in Systematic Biology: A Case Study
C.C. Parmar, India 710

Frequency Distributions in Scientometrics and Bibliometrics
A. Schubert and W. Glänzel, Hungary 715

DATA BASE MANAGEMENT

Chairperson: Y. Nakamura, Japan

Using DBase III to Manage Continuations
L.S. Jackson and R. Aluri, U.S.A. 723

TINman: Innovative Microcomputer Information Retrieval
K.T. Bivins-Noerr and P.L. Noerr, U.K. 731

Application Development Using the IV+V System Software Package
I. Mistrik, G. Kerschhackel, E. Bertha and H. Billing, F.R.G. 738

Microcomputers and Operational Necessity: The Experience of the National Photography Collection
A.J. Birrell, Canada 746

CD-ROM a New Way of Information Transfer
W. Müller, F.R.G. 752

Checking Rules with SNOBOL 4
P. Bantzer, F.R.G. 756

Simple Information System Comprasing Abilities of IRS and DBMS
Z.M. Nowicki and J.J. Solak, Poland 762

The Work of the Information Department of Central Technical Library at the University Edvard Kardelj of Ljubljana
M. Ostanek, Yugoslavia 770

Closing Address
