

AMERICAN LABOR IN THE ERA OF WORLD WAR II

Edited by

Sally M. Miller and Daniel A. Cornford

---

PRAEGER

Westport, Connecticut
London

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
Daniel A. Cornford and Sally M. Miller
I Labor in the National Arena
1 CIO Leaders and the State, 1935–55	29
Robert H. Zieger
2 The Law of Collective Bargaining and Wartime Labor Regulations	43
James B. Atleson
3 The United Steelworkers of America and Health Insurance, 1937–62	69
Alan Derickson

II Struggles at the Workplace

- 4 Wartime Shipyards: The Transformation of Labor in San Francisco's East Bay 89
Marilynn S. Johnson
- 5 The San Francisco Machinists and the National War Labor Board 105
Richard P. Boyden
- 6 Who Controls the Hiring Hall? The Struggle for Job Control in the ILWU during World War II 120
Nancy L. Quam-Wickham

III Race, Gender, and Community

- 7 "Her Husband Didn't Have a Word to Say": Black Women and Blues Clubs in Richmond, California, during World War II 147
Shirley Ann Moore
- 8 African-American Migrant Women in the San Francisco East Bay Area 165
Gretchen Lemke-Santangelo
- 9 Catalyst for Change: Wartime Housing and African-Americans in California's East Bay 186
Delores Nason McBroome
- 10 The CIO: A Vanguard for Civil Rights in Southern California, 1940-46 200
David Oberweiser, Jr.

- Index 217
- About the Contributors 227