

The Phoenix and the Flame

Catalonia and the Counter Reformation

Henry Kamen

Yale University Press · New Haven & London 1993

Contents

Glossary	vii
Preface	xi
ONE Mediona: A Community in the Counter Reformation	I
The parishes of St Quintí and Santa Maria: the sacraments in Mediona: diocesan visitations: the masies and the community: the ritual calendar: transhumance piety: rites of joy, rites of fear: rites of deliverance: the coming of the Counter Reformation to Catalonia
TWO Philip II and the Catalans	44
Church, state and crown: reform aspirations: lay jurisdictions: the Council of Trent, its impact on Spain: Philip II and reform: synods and provincial councils: Spain and the papacy: the religious orders and reform: nationalising of the Church: the new sees: the Catalan councils and synods: Philip II in 1585
THREE The Revolution in Public Worship	82
Religion and superstition on the eve of the Reformation: ignorance: 'The Indies': irreligion: reform of the liturgy: the boy bishop and the Sibyl: the imposition of the new liturgy: bishops and ad limina visits: the exempt sees in Spain: episcopal visitations: the sacrament of confirmation: the sacred character of the church building: the cemetery: the cathedral chapters: the sacraments – mass, communion and confession: death: invention of silence: local piety: the cult of saints in Catalonia: relics: goigs : Mary in Catalonia: apparitions: Rosary: the crib: investing in the Baroque: Montserrat
FOUR Community and Counter Reformation	157
Excommunications: the parish: the priest in the community:

	clericalisation and anticlericalism: the new registers: confraternities and youth groups: urbanism and civic piety: public feasts: rite inversion: Carnival: processions: Corpus Christi in Catalonia: theatre: the purification of rites: the abolition of dancing: pilgrimages: the disciplining of religious time: poverty: violence: sacrilege, duels, banditry, pardons
FIVE	The Inquisition	211
	Structure and function: political conflict: educative role: heresy in Catalonia?: inquisitorial censorship: the French in Catalonia: witchcraft: social control?: the edict of faith and visitations: trials and autos de fe : public opinion: analysis of statistics: familiares and comisarios : limpieza , infamy, and sanbenitos
SIX	The Reshaping of Marriage and Sexuality	275
	Church courts and discipline: clandestine marriages: verba de futuro , marriage and blessing: the marriage clauses: writings on marriage and the family: love and free choice: consanguinity: godparents and baptism: infidelity, bigamy and divorce: the charivari: fornication and prostitution: cohabitation: superiority of marriage: sex and the clergy: disciplining of sex: attitudes to women: women and the Church – separation of sexes, convent regulation
SEVEN	Taking the Message to the People	340
	Reform of the priesthood: seminaries and recruitment: catechesis and literacy, an oral culture: education: the use of Latin: sermons and preaching: the vernacular: Jesuits and the new religious orders: missions and the winning of the countryside
EIGHT	The Encounter with Europe	385
	Catalonia and Europe: the crisis of 1558: printing and book imports: publication abroad: book censorship: foreign contacts: reading and bookshops: the literature of the Counter Reformation: a decadence of Catalan?: Erasmus in Barcelona: bookshops 1560–1660
NINE	Conclusion: A Christian Society?	427
	Notes	440
	Sources:	496
	I Select Bibliography
	II Early Printed Books
	III Archival Sources
	IV Contemporary Manuscripts
	Index	517