

THE POLITICAL ECONOMY
OF
SOUTH AFRICA

Edited by
Nicoli Nattrass and Elisabeth Ardington

1990
OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
CAPE TOWN

Contents

Contributors . . . . .	v
Acknowledgements . . . . .	viii
Preface . . . . .	ix
Introduction . . . . .	1
1 A periodization of the political economy from 1910 . . . . . S. Terreblanche and N. Nattrass	6
2 The case for a social democratic compromise . . . . . P. le Roux	24
3 Apartheid ideology and economic development policy . . . . . C. McCarthy	43
4 Towards an understanding of bantustan politics . . . . . J. Graaff	55
5 From booster to brake? Apartheid and economic growth in comparative perspective. . . . . T. Moll	73
6 Economic growth, income distribution and social change . . . . . M. McGrath	88
7 Economic power and profits in post-war manufacturing . . . . . N. Nattrass	107
8 Black wages: the post-war experience . . . . . J. Hofmeyr	129
9 Unions and industrial councils: why do unions' policies change? . . . M. Morris	148
10 Unemployment and labour market issues — a beginners' guide. . . . S. Archer, N. Bromberger, N. Nattrass and G. Oldham	163

11	The migrant labour system: changing dynamics in rural survival . . .	175
	J. May
12	Economic and political aspects of urbanization and housing policy . . .	187
	C. Simkins
13	The black taxi revolution . . . . .	207
	M. Khosa
14	The small black enterprise sector — a brief note of caution . . . . .	217
	N. Natrass
15	Poverty, the state and redistribution: some reflections . . . . .	229
	F. Wilson
16	Education and the economy . . . . .	241
	G. Trotter
17	The choice of trade strategy . . . . .	260
	M. Holden
18	Sanctions, economic growth and change . . . . .	275
	C. Jenkins
19	Capital goods, 'dependence' and appropriate technology . . . . .	292
	C. Meth
	Index . . . . .	313