

Situated Politeness

Bethan L. Davies, Michael Haugh
and
Andrew John Merrison

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
Chapter 1 Situating Politeness	1
Michael Haugh, Bethan L. Davies and Andrew John Merrison
Part I Politeness in Institutional Settings
Chapter 2 Relativity Rules: Politic Talk in Ethnicized Workplaces	27
Janet Holmes and Meredith Marra
Chapter 3 That's not very polite! Discursive Struggle and Situated Politeness in the Mexican English-language Classroom	53
Gerrard Mugford
Chapter 4 Communities of Practice and Politeness	73
Sara Mills
Chapter 5 Relational Work in a Sporting Community of Practice	88
Jodie Clark
Part II Politeness in Interpersonal Settings
Chapter 6 Situated Functions of Addressee Honorifics in Japanese Television Drama	111
Andrew Barke
Chapter 7 Do you want to do it yourself like? Hedging in Irish Traveller and Settled Family Discourse	129
Brian Clancy
Chapter 8 Unpacking the Hearer's Interpretation of Situated Politeness	147
Noriko Inagaki
Chapter 9 Humour, Face and Im/politeness in Getting Acquainted	165
Michael Haugh

Part III Politeness in Public Settings

Chapter 10	Situated Impoliteness: The Interface between Relational Work and Identity Construction Miriam A. Locher	187
Chapter 11	Negative Politeness Forms and Impoliteness Functions in Institutional Discourse: A Corpus-assisted Approach Charlotte Taylor	209
Chapter 12	National Face and National Face Threatening Acts: Politeness and the European Constitution Elena Magistro	232
Chapter 13	Tourist Advertising of Australia: Impolite or Situation-appropriate? Or a Uniquely Aussie Invite Lost in Translation Angela Ardington	253
Chapter 14	Epilogue Bethan L. Davies, Andrew John Merrison and Michael Haugh	270
	Author Index	279
	Subject Index	284