

“LEAVE NONE TO TELL THE STORY”

Genocide in Rwanda

written by Alison Des Forges

based on research by

Alison Des Forges
Timothy Longman
Michele Wagner
Kirsti Lattu

Eric Gillet
Catherine Choquet
Trish Huddleston
Jemera Rone

Human Rights Watch
New York · Washington · London · Brussels

International Federation of Human Rights
Paris

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

The Genocide: A Summary	3
The Strategy of Ethnic Division	3
Preparations for Slaughter	4
The Attack	5
Recruiting for Genocide	6
The Structure	8
Strategies of Slaughter	9
Popular Participation	10
The Masquerade of Legitimacy	12
Survival Tactics	12
The End of Hutu Power	13
The Rwandan Patriotic Front	13
Numbers	15
International Responsibility	16
Tolerating Discrimination and Violence	17
Economies and Peacekeeping	17
Warnings, Information and the U.N. Staff	18
Obfuscation and Misunderstanding	19
Genocide and War	20
Military Action and Inaction	21
Tolerating Genocide	24
Rwandans Listened	26
The Future	27
The Research Project	28
Language, Spelling and Names	30

THE CONTEXT OF GENOCIDE

History	31
The Meaning of "Hutu," "Tutsi," and "Twa"	31
Colonial Changes in the Political System	34
The Transformation of "Hutu" and "Tutsi"	36
The Hutu Revolution	38
Habyarimana in Control	40
The Single-Party State	41
The Army, the Church and the Akazu	43
Prosperity, Short-Lived and Superficial	45
Threats to the MRND Monolith	47
Opposition within Rwanda	47
The RPF Attack	48
The Government Response to the Attack	49
Consolidating the Opposition	51
Kubohoza, "To Help Liberate"	54

Impunity and Insecurity	58
The Military Defines “The Enemy”	59
Propaganda and Practice	65
The Media	66
Validating the Message	71
The Message	72
“Tutsi Unity”	73
“Infiltration”	74
“Restoring the Old Regime”	76
“Genocide of the Hutu”	78
The Regional Context	79
“The Hutu as Innocent Victim”	81
“The Tutsi Cause Their Own Misfortune”	82
“Hutu Solidarity”	82
The Mugesera Speech: “Do Not Let Yourselves Be Invaded”	83
Practicing Slaughter	87
Choosing the Target	87
Feeding the Fear	88
Directing the Attacks	89
Lying about the Violence	90
Impunity	91
International Response to the Massacres	91
The International Commission of Inquiry into Human Rights
Abuse in Rwanda	93
Choosing War	96
He Who Wishes for Peace Prepares for War	97
Arms	97
Lists	99
The Militia and “Self-Defense”	101
The AMASASU and Colonel Bagosora	103
Locating Potential Leaders	108
The February 1993 Attack	109
Splitting the Opposition	111
French Support for Habyarimana	116
The Costs of War	122
The Arusha Accords	123
Opposition to the Accords	125
Buying Machetes	127
Recruiting Supporters	128
Recruitment by the RPF	129
The United Nations Peacekeepers	130
Resources and Mandate	131
Paragraph 17	132
The Assassination of Melchior Ndadaye and Violence
in Burundi	134
Hutu Power	137

Warnings	141
Chronology	143
November 1993	143
December 1993	144
January 1994	147
February 1994	159
March 1994	168
April 1994	171
The U.N. Response to the Warning	172
Responses of the French, U.S., and Belgian Governments	175
A Solemn Appeal	177
Renewing the Mandate	178

GENOCIDE AT THE NATIONAL LEVEL

April 1994: "The Month that Would Not End"	180
The Attack on Habyarimana's Plane	181
Taking Control	185
Bagosora In Command	185
"The Prime Minister Isn't Working Anymore..."	187
Ambiguities and Double Language	192
The Interim Government	196
Launching the Campaign	199
The Initiators	199
Sharpening the Focus on Tutsi	201
Military Opposition: The April 12 Statement	204
Strategies of Slaughter	205
Priority Targets	205
Thorough Elimination: "Begin on One Side..."	208
Massacres	209
Impeding Flight: Barriers and Patrols	212
Rape and Sexual Servitude	215
Crimes of Extraordinary Brutality	216
Strategies of Survival	216
Resistance	216
Flight, Hiding, and Buying Safety	220
The Organization	222
The Military	223
Politicians and Militia	226
The Militia	227
The Administration	231
Passing the Word	232
Mobilizing the Population	234
Enforcing Regulations	237
Support Services: Ideas and Money	241
The Clergy	245
The Radio: Voice of the Campaign	248

Deception, Pretext, and Pretense	252
Popular Participation	260
Extending the Genocide	263
Removing Dissenters	264
Continued Conflicts Among the Military	266
Destroying Opposition in Gitarama	270
"The Population Is Trying to Defend Itself"	278
Tightening Control	283
Restoring to Rwanda "Its Good Name"	283
"Violence...Should Stop"	287
"No More Cadavers...On the Road"	288
"Pacification" as Deception	291
"Justice" During the Genocide	294
Mid-May Slaughter: Women and Children as Victims	295
"Opening a Breach to the Enemy": Conflicts Among Hutu	297
Political Struggles	298
Disputes Over Property	299
"Where Will It End?"	300
RPF Victory	301

GENOCIDE AT THE LOCAL LEVEL: GIKONGORO AND BUTARE

Gikongoro	303
Background	303
Bypassing the Prefect	307
Sub-Prefect Damien Biniga	308
Lieutenant Colonel Simba	309
First Attacks	311
Moving the Violence Outward	313
The Radio Targets Tutsi	314
Musebeya	316
The Burgomaster Opposes the Genocide	317
Simba Takes the Lead	320
The Barriers	323
"We Must Exterminate Them All!"	325
"No Words for Solving the Problem"	327
Attacking Dissenters	329
National Authorities Spur the Slaughter	331
Kivu: Evading Responsibility	331
Eliminating the Tutsi at Musebeya	334
Massacre at Kaduha	336
Tightening Control	345
"Pacification" in Gikongoro	345
"Civilian Self-Defense" in Gikongoro	348
Removing the Burgomaster of Musebeya	350
Nyakizu: The Massacres	353
Butare: The Prefect and the Prefecture	353

Nyakizu Commune	354
Burgomaster Ntaganzwa: Victory Through Kubofoza	355
Consolidating Control	359
Hutu Power	361
The Border and the Burundians	362
Training and Arms	365
Beginning the Genocide	368
Gathering the Tutsi, Mobilizing the Hutu	370
The First Killings	373
Nkakwa	376
Cyahinda	380
The "Battle"	382
Improving Participation	387
Promises of Help, Threats of Reprisals	391
The Hilltops	396
Flight	399
Nyakizu: The Administration of Genocide	402
Restoring "Normal" Life	402
The Language of War	404
Cleaning Up	406
"Clear the Remaining Brush"	409
Speaking With One Voice	413
Approval from Above	417
The Security Committee	419
The Burgomaster: More Feared than Trusted	421
Allies into Enemies	423
"A Thirst for Possessions"	424
The "Enemy" Arrives at Nyakizu	427
Butare: "Let Them Stand Aside for Us and Let Us Work"	432
The Setting	432
The Military	434
The Intellectuals	435
The Militia and Political Parties	436
The Burundians	437
Early Violence	438
Trying to Keep Control	439
Responding to Attacks from Gikongoro	443
Dealing with the Displaced	444
Prefect Habyalimana Removed	446
Hutu Power Gains in Butare	448
Massacre at Simbi	449
Massacre at Kansi	452
Welcoming the New Prefect	454
South of Butare	463
The Meeting of April 20	465
Butare: "This is an Extermination"	454

Systematic Slaughter in Town	472
Killing the Targeted Individuals	472
Killing by Neighborhood	476
Slaughter at the University and the Hospital	480
Collective Slaughter	485
Butare Town	485
Ngoma Commune: Matyazo and Kabakobwa Massacres	485
Elsewhere in the Prefecture: The Devastating Third Week of April	488
The Betrayal of "Pacification"	489
The Massacres of April 30	491
Surviving	494
Seeking Help	494
Resisting	495
Genocidal Operations	499
The "Muscular Assistance" of the Military	499
The Militia and the Match Factory	506
Civilian Action	510
Butare: "Workers Who Want to Work for their Country"	515
"Civilian Self-Defense" in Butare	516
Leadership and Finance	516
Training and Weapons	519
Security Concerns Everyone	522
Barriers and Patrols: Obligatory Participation	523
Security Committees	527
The Murders in May	531
Protection	536
Given and Refused	536
Partial Protection: The Group at the Prefecture	539
Seeking Intellectual Reinforcement: The Interim Prime Minister and the Professors	542
Guhumbahumba : To Track Down the Last Tutsi	545
Searching the Fields, Forests and Valleys	548
Searching Butare Town	551
Butare: "No One Will Be Safe From Disorder"	554
Hutu Against Hutu	555
Personal and Political Conflict	555
Regional Conflict	559
Property and Women	561
Dissension Over the Genocide	565
Individual Protectors	565
Protection by the Community	567
Protection on Principle	568
Unruly Military	570
Law and Order	572

Judicial Action	573
Attempts at Community Control	574
International Contacts	576
Permission to Leave	579
New Administrators, Dwindling Commitment to the Campaign ..	580
The Final Hunt in Butare	583
Survivors	585
Authority and Responsibility	591

GENOCIDE AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY

Ignoring Genocide	595
UNAMIR	596
"Defensive Survival Exercise"	596
The Mandate and Passive Witnesses to Genocide	600
The Evacuation Force	605
No Locals	609
The Ecole Technique Officielle: "Do Not Abandon Us!"	613
Belgian Policy	618
"Suspend the Activities of UNAMIR"	618
"The Security of UNAMIR"	620
U.S. Policy: "Another Somalia" and Other Misconceptions	623
U.N. Obfuscation: "A People Fallen into Calamitous Circumstances"	625
Protecting "The Innocent Civilians of Rwanda"	628
Reducing UNAMIR	630
An Exceptional Case: The Hotel Mille Collines	633
Acknowledging Genocide	635
The End of April: Recognizing Genocide	636
Statement by the Secretary-General	637
Statement of the President of the Security Council	638
Diplomacy as Usual	640
UNAMIR II	644
Human Rights Agencies	646
Arms and Ammunition	649
"Vive La Cooperation Franco-Rwandaise"	654
"Getting Your Hands Dirty"	655
Aid to the Rwandan Armed Forces	660
French Soldiers: A Private Initiative?	665
Operation Turquoise	668
The Kigeme Declaration and the End to "Legitimacy"	690

ENDING GENOCIDE

The Rwandan Patriotic Front	692
"Not Hutu, Tutsi, nor Twa"	693
The Ideology of National Unity	693

Recruiting Hutu Supporters	694
Stopping the Genocide	697
Military Action	697
Rejection of UNAMIR II	699
Human Rights Abuses by the RPF Before April 1994	701
Killings and Other Abuses by the RPF, April to July 1994	702
Killings in the Course of Combat	702
Kwitaba Imana and Kwitaba Inama: Massacres at Public Meetings	705
Summary and Arbitrary Executions	709
Summary Execution of Persons Accused of Genocide ..	714
Hindering Humanitarian Assistance	723
Control of Information	723
Accusations of RPF Abuses	724
The Gersony Mission	726
Scope and Conclusions	726
“The Gersony Report Does Not Exist”	728
International Responsibility	731
Responsibility Within the RPF	732
Conclusion: Justice and Responsibility	736
The International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda	737
Relations Between the International Tribunal and National Jurisdictions	740
Administration of the International Tribunal	741
Protection of Witnesses	742
The Prosecutions	743
Rwandans and the International Tribunal	745
The Rwandan Prosecution of Genocide	747
Legislation	749
Detentions	753
Trials	755
Material Compensation	760
The Executions of April 1998	761
Confessions	762
Conditions in Prisons and Communal Lockups	763
Conditional Release	763
Foreign Prosecutions and Other Proceedings	765
Taking Responsibility	768
Conclusion	770
Index	773