

Towards a Democratic Rationality

Making the Case for Swedish Labour

PROFESSOR JOHN FRY
*Researcher at the Swedish
Center for the Study of Working
Life, Stockholm*

Gower

Contents

Authors	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
Introduction; John A Fry	ix

	Page
1. Research and Working Life Science in Sweden Casten von Otter	1
2. Democratic Rationality - Democratic Work Organisation: Gender Equality at Work John Fry and Ulla Ressner	14
3. Working Life Science as Critical Theory Mats Alvesson	33
4. Form and Function in Organisation Theory Bengt Abrahamsson	49
5. Labour Market Policy in the Welfare State Rudolf Meidner	62
6. Crisis in Labour Market Policy Jan Odhnoff	71
7. Co-Determination and Wage Earners' Funds Bo Gustafsson	86

8.	Co-Determination, Work Organisation, and the Rights of Labour Anders Broström	110
9.	The Co-Determination Act in Practice: The Case of the Mining Industry John Fry	122
10.	New Directions in Plant Closure Research Peter Mossfeldt	167
11.	Female Labour and the 'Rationalisation' of Office Work John Fry	180
12.	Women and Group Organised work in the Public Sector Ulla Rössner	191
13.	Trade Unions, Work Organisation and Women in the Care Sector Ulla Rössner	208
14.	Swedish Trade Unions and Immigrant Workers Wuokko Knocke	219
15.	Local Union Influence on Technology and Work Organisation Pelle Ehn and Åke Sandberg	231
16.	Disease and Work Organisation Björn Gustavsen	244
17.	Wage Earner Consultants Åke Sandberg	260
18.	Notes	266
19.	Bibliography	271