
The Soviet Bloc and the Third World

The Political Economy of East-South Relations

EDITED BY

Brigitte H. Schulz
and William W. Hansen

Westview Press
BOULDER, SAN FRANCISCO, & LONDON

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1 East-South Relations: An Introduction, William W. Hansen	1
2 The Socialist Countries in the World Economy: The East-South Dimension, André Gunder Frank	9
3 The Theory of the Non-Capitalist Road, William D. Graf	27
4 Socialist Transformation and Soviet Foreign Policy in the Gorbachev Era, Peter W. Schulze	53
5 The Socialist Countries' Conception of the New International Economic Order, Helmut Faulwetter	77
6 A Critique of the Socialist Countries' Theory and Practice of the New International Economic Order, Kunibert Raffer	91
7 Patterns, Determinants, and Prospects of East-South Economic Relations, Istvan Dobozi	111
8 East-South Capital Cooperation: An Unexploited Possibility? Jan Monkiewicz and Grazyna Monkiewicz	137
9 The Export of "Complete Plants" with Buy-Back Agreements: A Substitute for Direct Investment in East-South Relations? Patrick Gutman	153

10	Nkomati and Soviet Policy on Africa in the Eighties: The End of Ideological Expansion? Winrich Kühne	181
11	Romania: Boundary Disintegration between East and South, Robin Alison Remington	197
12	The German Democratic Republic and Sub-Saharan Africa: The Limits of East-South Economic Relations, Brigitte H. Schulz	213
	About the Contributors	237
	Index	239