
The Status of Tibet

History, Rights, and Prospects
in International Law

Michael C. van Walt van Praag, with a Foreword by Franz Michael and an Introduction by Rikhi Jaipal

Westview Press / Boulder, Colorado

Contents

List of Maps.....	xi
Foreword, Franz Michael	xiii
Preface.....	xvii
Acknowledgments.....	xxi
Introduction, Rikhi Jaipal	xxiii
1 The Early Political History.....	1
The Tibet-China Treaty of A.D. 821 and the Imperial Age.....	1
Tibet and the Mongols: The Rise of Religious Power.....	4
From Secular Nationalism Toward Theocratic Rule: The Dalai Lamas.....	7
2 Government by Dalai Lama: Mongol, Manchu, and Gorkha Intervention.....	10
The Dalai Lama's Supremacy.....	10
Manchu Intervention in Tibet.....	14
The Tibetan-Manchu Relationship Takes Shape.....	15
The Gorkha Invasion and the Last Manchu Intervention.....	19
The Manchu's Abandonment of Their Protective Role and Nepal's Challenge to It.....	22
3 Tibet in the "Great Game".....	26
Tibetan Isolationism: The Forbidden Land.....	26
Diplomatic Relations with Russia and Treaty Relations with Great Britain.....	29
Tibet: The Subject of Great Power Treaties.....	36
4 Tibet Asserts Its Independence.....	47
Expulsion of the Manchus and Reassertion of Independence.....	47
Emergence of New Chinese and British Policies.....	51
The Three-Power Conference and the Anglo-Tibetan Agreement of 1914.....	54

5	Policies of National Survival	61
	Tibetan Reliance on the British.....	61
	Striking a Balance with China.....	65
	Neutrality in War.....	70
	Expanding International Relations.....	74
6	From Independence to Invasion	81
	Active Diplomacy.....	81
	The Communist Chinese Threat: Imminent Invasion.....	88
7	The Legal Status of Political Entities	93
	Statehood.....	93
	Restrictions on State Sovereignty.....	101
	China and International Law.....	110
8	The Historical Status of Tibet: Conclusions	119
	From a Secular Empire to a Religious State.....	119
	Tibetan-Manchu Relations in the Eighteenth Century.....	124
	The Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries.....	128
	The Status of Tibet on the Eve of the Invasion.....	134
9	The "Peaceful Liberation," or Invasion, of Tibet	142
	Military Invasion	142
	Sino-Tibetan Agreement: Incorporation on China's Terms.....	147
	The Validity of Tibet's Incorporation.....	149
10	Tibet and the People's Republic: Decades of Turmoil	156
	Cooperation, Resistance, and Rebellion.....	157
	The Lhasa-Beijing-Dharmasala Triangle.....	166
	The Present Status of Tibet.....	177
11	Beyond the Status Quo: Toward an Equitable Resolution	189
	The Legitimacy of the Tibetan People's Claim to Self-Determination in International Law.....	190
	Toward a Solution.....	197
	Notes.....	205
	Appendixes.....	285
	Selected Bibliography.....	343
	Table of Cases.....	361
	List of Abbreviations.....	363
	Index.....	365