

Policies for Development

Essays in Honour of Gamani Corea

Edited by
Sidney Dell

Senior Fellow

United Nations Institute for Training and Research

M
MACMILLAN
PRESS

Contents

Notes on the Contributors	vii
Preface	xi
I Intergenerational Responsibilities
1 Intergenerational Responsibilities or Our Duties to the Future Paul Streeten	3
II Overcoming the External Constraints
2 African Recovery and Development H. M. A. Onitiri	25
3 External Constraints and Endogenous Development: Reflections on the Brazilian Case Ignacy Sachs	48
4 Import Substitution Revisited in a Darkening External Environment H. W. Singer and Parvin Alizadeh	60
5 Developing Country Debts in the Mid-1980s: Facts, Theory and Policy Dragoslav Avramovic	87
6 Direct Foreign Investment and Manufacturing for Export in Developing Countries: A Review of the Issues Gerald K. Helleiner	123
7 Do Third World Countries Benefit from Countertrade? Frances Stewart and Harsha V. Singh	154

III Balance-of-Payments Policies and Development

- 8 Restoring the IMF to its Old Purpose
John Spraos 183

- 9 The Impact of Currency Devaluation on
Commodity Production and Exports of Developing Countries
Alfred Maizels 187

IV Resources for Development

- 10 Development Economists for Arms Control
Jan Tinbergen 209

V Multilateral Diplomacy for Development

- 11 The Confidence Factor in Multilateral Diplomacy
Johan Kaufmann 221

- Index* 243