

Prof. Dr. Peter Friedrich
and Ian Masser (Eds.)

International Perspectives of Regional Decentralisation

Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft
Baden-Baden

Table of Contents

Preface	5
Acknowledgements	11
Notes On Contributors	12
Chapter One
Current Trends in Regional Decentralisation	17
A. City Size Distribution and the Spatial Reorganisation of American Manufacturing Employment Barry M. Moriarty	21
B. Demographic Forces of Inter Urban Deconcentration Piotr Korcelli	44
C. Spatial Concentration and Dispersion Trends in Population Distribution in the Federal Republic of Germany Herwig Birg	61
D. The Spatial Distribution of Population in Post War Japan (1945-1980): Implications for the Developing Countries Ayse Gedik	86
Chapter Two
Some Models of Regional Dynamics	119
A. Regional Growth Regional Decline and Decentralisation Michael Sonis	122

B.	A Discrete Relative Growth Model: Switching, Role Reversal and Turbulence Michael Sonis and Dimitrios Dendrinos	156
C.	Spatial Pricing and Market Decentralisation Martin J. Beckmann	181
Chapter Three
The Analysis of Urban Spatial Evolution		187
A.	The Dynamics of Suburbanisation David Batten and Kevin O'Connor	191
B.	Controlled and Uncontrolled Processes of Urban Expansion and Contraction Sakari T. Jutila	214
C.	Measurement and Tests of Long Term Urban Spatial Evolution Arnoud Mouwen and Peter Nijkamp	235
D.	Dynamic Optimisation of Rural Development and Urban Re-growth Hirotsada Kobno, Yoshiro Higano and Yuji Matsumura	254
Chapter Four
Regional Policy Implications		279
A.	The Economic Bases for Regional Decentralisation Policies: a Comment from Australian Experience Robert A. Carter and Anthony Milanese	282
B.	Regional Conflicts and Spatial Polarisation in Centrally Planned Economies – the Polish Case Jan Kowalski	304

 C. Economic Change and Human Resources: Some Implications for Regional Development Mieke Kesik	334
Summary in German	351
Index of Names	355
Index of Subjects	358