

CULTURAL REVOLUTION IN BERLIN

Jews in the age of Enlightenment

SHMUEL FEINER & NATALIE NAIMARK-GOLDBERG

Bodleian Library
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

JOURNAL of JEWISH STUDIES

Contents

Foreword	vi
Preface	vii
1 The Haskalah Library in Oxford: focus and limits of the story	1
2 The early maskilim and the renewal of Jewish culture	8
3 A modern Jewish intellectual: Moses Mendelssohn in Berlin	23
4 Religious tolerance: an Enlightenment value contested	33
5 A curriculum for Jewish education: rabbinic ideas contested	44
6 The Haskalah movement: its ideology and institutions	49
7 Jewish intellectuals in the non-Jewish sphere	61
8 Beyond Haskalah: radicalization in Jewish intellectual circles	69
Books and pamphlets from the Leopold Müller Memorial Library and the Bodleian Library	89
Select bibliography	93