

American Gardens of the Nineteenth Century

“For Comfort and Affluence”

A N N                L E I G H T O N

The University of Massachusetts Press

Amherst

1987

Contents

List of Illustrations xi

Foreword xv

Preview from the Summerhouse 3

Unfamiliar Territory

ONE

American Plants and Early American Botanists 15

TWO

Star of Empire: Botanist-Explorers in the Western Territories 29

THREE

Those Blessed Visitors: Observers from Abroad 42

FOUR

Free Spirits and Fixed Points 49

FIVE

Seedsmen and Their Nurseries 67

SIX

Enter the Ladies 83

SEVEN

Societies and Shows 101

Laying on of Hands

EIGHT

Early Links 119

NINE

Cemeteries into Parks 134

TEN

Principals and Their Principles 144

ELEVEN

Later Links 173

TWELVE

Greensward into Central Park 186

THIRTEEN

The Final Link: Trees as Keys to Understanding the Value of Natural Resources 196

Domestic Pleasures

FOURTEEN

Tracing Outlines of the Past: Living Clues and Eyewitness Accounts 209

FIFTEEN

The Uses of Space, and of Embellishments 228

SIXTEEN

Bedding-out 241

SEVENTEEN

Neighboring Improvements 249

o

EIGHTEEN

How to Make Country Places 261

Contents | ix

NINETEEN

Northern Lights 269

TWENTY

Specialty Gardens 284

Afterword 296

Appendix: Plants Most Commonly Used in Nineteenth-Century
American Gardens 299

Bibliography 381

Index 391