

---

Authority, Autonomy, and Representation in American Literature,
1776–1865

---

---

MARK R. PATTERSON

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

---

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Introduction	xv
Abbreviations of Frequently Cited Works	xxix

PART ONE. The Post-Revolutionary Period

ONE. Benjamin Franklin and the Authority of Imitation	3
TWO. Hugh Henry Brackenridge and Representation	34
THREE. Charles Brockden Brown, Authority, and Intentionality	61

PART TWO. The Antebellum Period

FOUR. Myth from the Perspective of History: James Fenimore Cooper and Paternal Authorities	81
FIVE. Ralph Waldo Emerson and the American Representative	137

SIX. Herman Melville: The Authority of Confidence	189
Conclusion	240
Index	245