

African City Textualities

Edited by Ranka Primorac

CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors	vii
Introduction: City, text, future Ranka Primorac	1
1 A city that keeps a country going: In praise of Dakar Donal Cruise O'Brien	7
2 Corresponding with the city: Self-help literature in urban West Africa Stephanie Newell	17
3 Philly Lutaaya: Popular music and the fight against HIV/AIDS in Uganda Joel Isabirye	31
4 Remapping urban modernities: Julie Ward's death and the Kenyan grapevine Grace A. Musila	39
5 The modern city and citizen efficacy in a Zambian novel Ranka Primorac	51
6 Lusaka Laura Miti-Banda	63
7 The urban palimpsest: Re-presenting Sophiatown Meg Samuelson	65
8 Myth and legend in urban oral memory: Bulawayo, 1930–60 Terence Ranger	79
9 Ivan Vladislavić and the possible city James Graham	91
10 City, identity and dystopia: Writing Lagos in contemporary Nigerian novels Rita Nnodim	103
Afterword: Modernity and transformation in African cities Jennifer Robinson	115
Index	119