

The Rhetoric of Credit

Merchants in Early Modern Writing

Ceri Sullivan

Madison • Teaneck
Fairleigh Dickinson University Press
London: Associated University Presses

Contents

Preface	7
1. Introduction	11
2. The Commodity of Credit: Double Entry and the Merchant's Word	23
Forms of Credit	23
Merchant Handbooks' Advice	26
3. The Theology of Credit: Risk and Opportunity Cost	44
Theology of Usury	44
Image of Credit	53
Real Risk: Bankrupts and Sovereign Debt	61
4. The Credit of Cash	71
Esteem of Cash	71
Imaginary Monies	78
Abased Coin	80
Misers and Hard Cash	84
5. If You Know Not Me (2) and Commercial Revue	87
6. The Alchemist and the Art of Adequation	108
7. Eastward Ho! and Social Catachresis	122
8. Afterword	140
Notes	141
Bibliography	191
Index	212