

Jews and Christians
in a
Pluralistic World

EDITED BY
ERNST-WOLFGANG BÖCKENFÖRDE
& EDWARD SHILS

WEIDENFELD & NICOLSON
LONDON
IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE INSTITUT FÜR DIE
WISSENSCHAFTEN VOM MENSCHEN, VIENNA

CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors	vii
Introduction	xi
I The Fundamental Questions
CARDINAL FRANZ KÖNIG The Common Roots of the Jewish and Christian Religions	3
R. J. ZWI WERBLOWSKY The Common Roots of Judaism and Christianity	12
II The Historical Background
GEZA VERMES Jesus the Jew: Christian and Jewish Reactions	25
ALEKSANDER GIEYSZTOR How Jews and Christians Saw Each Other in the West and in East Central Europe in Pre-modern Times	43
JACOB KATZ Mutual Perceptions of Jews and Christians in Recent History	57
JAN BŁOŃSKI The Jew as Enemy and as Neighbour: The Paradox of Christian Anti-Semitism	72

Contents

JOZEF TISCHNER The Challenge of Totalitarianism: Judaism and Christianity in Relation to Twentieth-Century Totalitarianism	78
III Religious Pluralism and Civil Society
OWEN CHADWICK Relations Between Jews and Christians in Civil and Persecuting Societies	103
ERNST-WOLFGANG BÖCKENFÖRDE Religion in a Civil Society	125
EDWARD SHILS Reflections on Religious Pluralism in Civil Societies	147
IV Perspectives and Achievements
RABBI LEON KLENICKI The New Gnosticism: The Book of Exodus as an Ideology	169
PIETRO ROSSANO Jewish-Christian Relations: Achievements and Unfinished Agenda	183