

POWER, CULTURE, AND RELIGION
IN FRANCE
c.1350–c.1550

Edited by Christopher Allmand

THE BOYDELL PRESS

CONTENTS

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	vi
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	vii
ABBREVIATIONS	viii
INTRODUCTION	ix
 'Mutton Guzzlers and Wine Bags': Foreign Soldiers and Native Reactions in Fifteenth-Century France Brian G. H. Ditcham	 1
 'Monseigneur Saint Denis', his Abbey, and his Town, under the English Occupation, 1420–1436 Guy Thompson	 15
 'Les Angloys, de leur droicte nature, veulent touzjours guerrear': Evidence for Painting in Paris and Normandy, c.1420–1450 Catherine Reynolds	 37
 'Morisques' and 'Momeryes': Aspects of Court Entertainment at the Court of Savoy in the Fifteenth Century Alison Rosie	 57
 English and French Artistic Propaganda during the period of the Hundred Years War: Some Evidence from Royal Charters. Elizabeth Danbury	 75
 Mixing Business with Leisure: Some French Royal Notaries and Secretaries and their Histories of France, c.1459–1509 Kathleen Daly	 99
 Rouen and the Golden Age: the Entry of Francis I, 2 August 1517 Penny Richards	 117
 Looking for the Origins of the French Reformation David Nicholls	 131
NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	145
INDEX	147