
THE PEOPLES OF THE SOVIET UNION

Viktor Kozlov

Introduced by Michael Rywkin

Translated by Pauline M. Tiffen

Hutchinson

London Melbourne Sydney Auckland Johannesburg

Indiana University Press

Bloomington and Indianapolis

CONTENTS

List of maps and figures	vii
Foreword to the series: Teodor Shanin	ix
Explanation of Russian acronyms used in the text	xii
Introduction: Michael Rywkin	1
Author's Introduction	11
1 HISTORY AND ETHNIC GEOGRAPHY	15
Formation of ethnic areas and population growth to 1917	15
Religious and anthropological composition of the Russian population	20
Tsarist policy and the nationality question in the RSDWP programme	26
Nationality policy since 1917: the construction of ethnic states	29
The population growth in the republics of the USSR	35
2 GEOGRAPHY AND URBANIZATION	40
General picture of population distribution	40
Ethnic aspects of urbanization	49
Changes in population distribution by republic	70
Ethnic diversity within the republics of the USSR	83

3 DEMOGRAPHY AND ETHNIC POPULATIONS	99
Dynamics of natural growth of the ethnic population until the mid-1920s	99
Ethno-demographic situation according to the 1926 census	104
Demographic processes 1926 – 1959	116
Changes in the ethno-demographic situation, 1959–1970 and beyond	128
4 ETHNOGRAPHY AND PROCESSES OF ETHNIC TRANSFORMATION	152
Main types of ethnic processes in the USSR	152
Linguistic-cultural development of the peoples of the USSR	159
Ethno-linguistic processes in the USSR	169
Ethnically mixed marriages	188
Processes of ethnic transformation and growth of the peoples of the USSR	204
5 CONCLUSION	216
APPENDIX – Ethno-linguistic composition and ethnic distribution in 1897	221
NOTES AND REFERENCES	249
INDEX	255