

Recognition as Key for Reconciliation

Israel, Palestine, and Beyond

Edited by

Yoram Meital
Paula M. Rayman

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Foreword IX

Albie Sachs

Acknowledgments XII

Contributors Biographies XIV

Introduction 1

Paula M. Rayman and Yoram Meital

PART 1

Israel and Palestine

1 Sticking Point in Israel–Palestine Peace Talks: ‘Thick’ and ‘Thin’
Recognition 13

Yoram Meital

2 Mutual Recognition of the Other’s National Identity: The Essential
Ingredient of Israeli–Palestinian Peace and Reconciliation 26

Herbert Kelman

3 Is the Israeli–Palestinian Conflict Resolvable? Ethical Transformative
Recognition and Conflict Resolution 38

Amal Jamal

4 Collective Trauma, Recognition and Reconciliation in the Israeli–
Palestinian Conflict 59

Maya Kahanoff

PART 2

Beyond

5 Multiculturalizing Citizenship: Recognition, Political Agency and Marginalized Groups 95

Victoria Montgomery

6 On Recognition: The First Steps to Democratization and the Case of the Egyptian Revolution 117

Deina Abdelkader

7 Recognizing the Armenian Genocide: Closing Long Festering Wounds 135

Gregory Aftandilian

PART 3

Towards Transformative Recognition

8 Recognition, Intersectionality and Transversal Politics 157

Nira Yuval-Davis

Epilogue: Recognition in Its Place 168

Dale F. Eickelman

Index 181