

Transgressive Romanticism

Edited by

Larry H. Peer

Cambridge
Scholars
Publishing

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors.....	vii
Introduction .....	1
The Sweep of Transgressive Romanticism
Larry H. Peer
Chapter One.....	10
Texts of Recovery: Post-Hegelian Reflections on the Work of Romantic Lyric
Richard Eldridge
Chapter Two.....	27
"Utterance Sacrilegious": Poetic Transgression in Keats's Hyperion Fragments
James H. Donelan
Chapter Three .....	42
Between Poetry and Music: Keats's "To Autumn" and Beethoven's Cavatina
Lloyd Davies
Chapter Four.....	61
"Too Anglican Altogether": Benjamin Bailey's Transgressive Conservatism in Poetical Sketches of the Interior of Ceylon
Thomas H. Schmid
Chapter Five .....	76
Finding Fulfillment through Submission; or, How the French Should Stop Worrying and Learn to Love Islam: Michel Houellebecq's Soumission
Hollie Markland Harder
Chapter Six .....	92
Transgressive Dialectic: Kant, Hegel, and Beethoven's Late Piano Sonatas
Matt Kershaw

Chapter Seven.....	115
Future Founding: The Romantic Transformation of Epic
Kevin M. Saylor
Chapter Eight.....	133
Freed By a Zombie: Limitations of Art in Hans Christian Andersen's "Det har Zombien gjort"
Lori Yamato
Chapter Nine.....	151
Byronic Indictments: Opposing Transgressions in Byron's Cain
Richard Johnston
Chapter Ten .....	170
Taming Wild Readers: Caleb Williams and the Outlaw Tradition
Cassandra Falke
Chapter Eleven .....	189
The Work's the Thing: Materializing the Romantic Play-Aesthetic on Zacharias Werner's Stage
Amy Emm	