

The Transformation of Rage

Mourning and Creativity
in George Eliot's Fiction

Peggy Fitzhugh Johnstone

New York University Press
NEW YORK & LONDON

Contents

Foreword by Jeffrey Berman ix

Acknowledgments xv

Introduction i

ONE

Self-Disorder and Aggression in Adam Bede 24

TWO

Narcissistic Rage in The Mill on the Floss 41

THREE

Loss, Anxiety, and Cure: Mourning and Creativity in Silas Marner 68

FOUR

Pathological Narcissism in Romola 86

FIVE

Fear of the Mob in Felix Holt 111

SIX

The Vast Wreck of Ambitious Ideals in Middlemarch 132

SEVEN

The Pattern of the Myth of Narcissus in Daniel Deronda 159

Conclusion 181

viii Contents

Works Cited 195

Index 203