

Information Sources in Economics

Second edition

Editor

John Fletcher, BA (Econ), MA, ALA
Librarian, Lanchester Library,
Coventry (Lanchester) Polytechnic

Butterworths

London Boston Durban

Singapore Sydney Toronto Wellington

Contents

Series editors' foreword	v
Contributors	ix
1 Introduction John Fletcher	1
2 Libraries and making a literature search John Fletcher	5
3 Using the economics library Charles A. Crossley	16
4 Reference and bibliographic tools Michael Shafe	34
5 Periodicals John Fletcher	56
6 Unpublished material John Fletcher	68
7 Databases and databanks Allan Foster	73
8 British official publications Priscilla J. Baines and Robert C. Clements	96
9 United States government publications J. A. Downey	112

10	International organizations' publications Eric C. Blake	131
11	Statistics sources Colin H. Offor	156
12	General economics John Fletcher	177
13	History of economic thought R. D. Collison Black	187
14	Economic history G. N. von Tunzelman	202
15	Economic theory
	1: Macroeconomics Marcus Miller	214
	2: Microeconomics Paul Weller	228
16	Econometric theory and method C. E. V. Leser	234
17	Industrial economics David Morris	244
18	Economic development, growth, and planning Alan R. Roe	255
19	Labour economics Robert M. Lindley	267
20	Agricultural economics A. J. Rayner	289
21	Monetary economics Geoffrey E. Wood	299
22	Public sector economics Peter M. Jackson	310
23	International economics John Williamson	317
24	Social economics Susan Charles	325
	Index	333