

THE IRANIAN
CONSTITUTIONAL REVOLUTION,
1906–1911

*Grassroots Democracy,
Social Democracy, & the Origins of Feminism*

Janet Afary

NEW YORK COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgments xiii

Chronology of the Major Events xvii

Introduction 1

PART I ON THE EVE 15

1. From Dependency to Resistance 17
  - The Capitalist World Economy and Dependent Development in Iran 17
  - The Origins of the Modernist-Religious Alliance 22
  - The Rise of the Merchant Class: The Tobacco Protest of 1891-1892 29
  - The Belgian Customs Reforms and Urban Protests 33
2. Revolution in the Air 37
  - The Early Reform Organizations 39
  - The Spectrum of Religious Ideologies: From Azali Babis to Freethinkers to Orthodox Clerics 43
  - August 1906: Outbreak of Revolution 50

PART II THE FIRST CONSTITUTIONAL PERIOD 61

3. The First National Assembly, the Urban Councils, and the Iranian Organization of Social Democrats: 1906-1907 63
  - The Composition of the First Majlis: From Elite Constitutionalists to Members of Trade Guilds 64
  - The Growth of the Urban Councils 73
  - The Birth of the Tabriz Anjuman 78
  - The Organization of Social Democrats and Its Branches in Iran 81

4. Clericalism or Constitutionalism? The Clash Over the Supplementary Constitutional Laws 89
  - Direct Democracy in Tabriz: The Expulsion of the Leader of the Friday Prayer 89
  - Muhammad 'Ali Shah's Ascension to the Throne 92
  - The Radicalization of the Tabriz Anjuman: The Expulsion of the City's Leading Cleric 95
  - The Comparison Committees or the Refutation Committee? The Tabriz General Strike 98
  - Shaikh Fazlullah Nuri's Takeover of the Shah 'Abd al-'Azim Shrine and the Assassination of Premier Amin al-Sultan 109
5. Journalism, Satire, and Revolution: Exposing the Conservative Clerics, Denouncing the Western Powers, 116
  - Mulla Nasr al-Din and the Radical Iranian Newspapers 119
  - Sur-i Israfil*, the Idea of Freedom, and the Battle with the Conservative Clerics 121
  - The Debates on Socialism 126
  - The Anglo-Russian Convention: A New Imperialist Threat 131
  - A Dress Rehearsal for June 1908 133
  - The Growing Radicalism of the Press 135
  - New Divisions Among Constitutionalist Clerics 137
  - The June 1908 Coup 140
- PART III NEW PASSIONS AND NEW FORCES 143
6. Peasants, Artisans, and Fishermen: From Land Reform and Parliamentary Opposition to Town and Village Councils 145
  - Some Theoretical Writings on Peasants' Resistance and Their Implications for Iran 147
  - Letters and Petitions 151
  - Revolts in the Caspian Region 154
  - The Majlis and the Abolition of Tuyul Land Allotment 162
  - Majlis Opposition to the Formation of Town and Village Anjumans 167
  - The Civil War in Azerbaijan and the Battle of Tavalash 172
7. The Women's Councils and the Origins of the Women's Movement in Iran 177
  - Carving Out a New Space: Women's Anjumans and Schools 178
  - Claiming a New Voice: Writings on Women's Rights in the Second Constitutional Period 195
  - Support Across Gender Lines: A Call for Women's Suffrage 201
  - Responding to the Imperialist Threat: The December 1911 Protests 203

PART IV THE LESSER AUTOCRACY 209

8. The Civil War in Azerbaijan 211

Sattar Khan, the "Pugachov of Azerbaijan," and the Mobilization of Tabriz 212

The Civil War as a Class Struggle: The Threat to Form a Republic 219
Russian Intervention Ends the Siege 224

9. International and Multiethnic Solidarity: The Revolutionary Forces
Reconquer Tehran 228

The Persia Committee of London and the Sa'adat Anjuman of Istanbul 228

European Social Democrats React to the Crisis Over Iran 232

Transcaucasian Revolutionaries in Azerbaijan and Gilan 237

The Tabriz Social Democrats: Where to Now? 241

The Reconquest of Tehran: New Divisions Within the Revolutionary Movement 248

PART V THE SECOND CONSTITUTIONAL PERIOD 255

10. The Second National Assembly and the Formation of Political Parties: The Democrat Party and Its Organ, Iran-i Naw 257

The Directory: The Fate of Leading Anticonstitutionalists 258
The Elections 261

Formation of Political Parties: The Democrat Party 264

The Armenian Social Democrats and the Democrat Party 267

The Program of the Democrat Party 269

The Moderates and Other Parties in the Majlis 271

Iran-i Naw, Organ of the Democrat Party 273

11. Assassination, Exile, and Imperialist Pressures: The Confrontation
at Atabak Park 284

Obstructionist Policies of the Western Powers and the Continued
Russian Occupation 284

The Dissent in the Newspapers 289

The 'Ulama Censure Taqizadah: The Moderate Party Woos Leaders of the Mujahidin Resistance 290

The Assassination of Bihbahani and the Exile of Taqizadah: The Essays of Tigran Ter Hacobian on Terrorism 293

The Tragedy of Atabak Park 298

The British Ultimatum and the Russo-German Meeting at Potsdam:

The Anti-Imperialist Conference at Istanbul 303

The Growing Power of the Moderate Party 309

12. Imperialist Intervention: The "Strangling of Persia"	314
Shuster's Reforms and the Democrats	315
The Moroccan Crisis and the Former Shah's Last Hurrah	321
Electoral, Educational, and Legal Reforms vs. New Powers for the Regency	324
Conflict Over Sh'u'a al-Saltanah's Residence	326
Shuster's Letter to the Times of London	328
The Russian Ultimatum and the Majlis Resistance	329
The Closing of the Majlis	335
Massacre in Azerbaijan, Terror in Gilan	337
Notes	343
Glossary	399
Bibliography	403
Index	417

Illustrations follow p. 144