

GORBACHEV AND HIS REFORMS 1985–1990

RICHARD SAKWA

Keynes College
University of Kent

Philip Allan

New York London Toronto Sydney Tokyo Singapore

CONTENTS

Abbreviations	ix
Preface	xi
1 The Soviet polity in the 1980s	1
Gorbachev comes to power	1
Consolidating power and authority	11
The legacy of the past	20
2 Communism and reform	26
The history of Communist reform	26
The general crisis of Communism	41
Reform Communism	53
3 Ideology and reform	65
Glasnost and the intelligentsia	65
Debrezhnevism and the concept of stagnation	82
Destalinisation and the new history	90
Towards a new concept of socialism	102
4 Democracy, politics and the party	126
The socialist legal state and democracy	126
Electoral reform	133
Democratisation of the state	142
Participation and workplace democracy	151
Leadership and policy-making	159
The party and politics	169
The new democratic revolution	192

5	The independent movement and civil rights	200
	The independent movement	200
	Human and civil rights	218
6	Nationalism and the state	231
	Nations and nationalism	231
	The new federalism	257
7	Perestroika of the economy	268
	Restructuring the economy	268
	Labour and social policy	295
	A new economic model of socialism	300
8	The new realism in foreign policy	315
	The new political thinking	316
	New thinking in practice	330
	A new realism for a new society	350
9	The second Russian revolution	357
	Problems of perestroika	357
	Socialism and reform	372
	Perestroika and the world	393
Appendix 1	Chronology of main events of Gorbachev's life and rule	404
Appendix 2	Politburo membership under Gorbachev	412
Appendix 3	Central Committee Secretaries	419
	Bibliography	421
	Index	441