

Churchill and the politics of war, 1940–1941

Sheila Lawlor

Contents

Acknowledgements	page	xi
List of abbreviations		xii
Introduction		1
Retrospect		25
Part 1 Churchill, the conservative party and the war		31
1 The opposition to Churchill and its causes		33
2 Events and reactions – (1): The German attack on France and its aftermath		45
3 Events and reactions – (2): The Battle of Britain		61
4 Chamberlain, Churchill and the conservative party		88
Part 2 The Middle East, imperial defence and the Balkans (October to December 1940)		113
5 Churchill and the Middle East		115
6 Eden and the Middle East		134
7 Halifax and the Middle East		145
8 The military and the Middle East		153
Part 3 The Greek Decision (January to March 1941)		165
9 The Greek decision: the background		167
10 Churchill, Eden and the Greek decision, January to 10 February 1941		176

x	Contents
11	The chiefs of staff at home and the Greek decision, January to 10 February 1941	191
12	The Middle East command and the Greek decision	206
13	The Greek decision, 10th February to early March 1941	219
	General conclusion	257
	Bibliography	260
	Index	267