

IRAN
THE CRISIS OF DEMOCRACY

Fakhreddin Azimi

I.B.Tauris & Co Ltd
Publishers
London

Contents

Preface	vii
Note on transliteration	x
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
Part I Years of Contested Adjustment
1 The Government of Furughi: August 1941–March 1942	35
2 The Government of Suhaili: March–July 1942	51
3 The Government of Qavam: August 1942–February 1943	63
4 The Government of Suhaili: February 1943–March 1944	80
Part II Years of Uneasy Compromise
5 The Government of Sa'id: March–November 1944	99
6 The Government of Bayat: November 1944–April 1945	113
7 The abortive Government of Hakimi: May–June 1945	121
8 The Government of Sadr: June–October 1945	124
9 The Government of Hakimi: October 1945–January 1946	135
Part III The Challenge of Qavam
10 The first period: January–December 1946	147
11 The second period: December 1946–December 1947	164
Part IV The Attempted Royal Ascendancy
12 The Government of Hakimi: December 1947–June 1948	183
13 The Government of Hazhir: June–November 1948	192
14 The Government of Sa'id: November 1948–March 1950	201
15 The Government of Mansur: March–June 1950	218

16	The Government of Razmara: June 1950–March 1951	226
17	The Government of Ala: March–April 1951	246
Part V The Hegemony of the Nationalist Movement and the Eclipse of the Monarchy
18	The first Government of Musaddiq: April 1951–July 1952	257
19	Qavam's débâcle and the July Uprising, 1952	288
20	The second Government of Musaddiq: July 1952– August 1953	293
Conclusion		339
Notes		345
Bibliography		405
Index		423