

Culture in Britain since 1945

---

Arthur Marwick

BLACKWELL
Oxford UK & Cambridge USA

---

Contents

---

List of Illustrations	ix
General Editor's Preface	xi
Preface	xiii
1 Introduction: Topics and Approaches	1
PART I Past and Present: 1945–1957
2 Tradition, War and Consensus	13
3 Literature and Drama: from Rhetoric to Empiricism	18
The cosy post-war scene	18
Reactions in the early fifties	25
4 Music, Painting and Sculpture: Modest Openings to the World	36
Music	36
Painting and sculpture	40
5 Rebuilding and Redesigning Britain	50
6 The Mass Media	56
PART II Great Expectations: 1958–1976
7 New Departures	67

viii Contents

8	'The Snobbery that Used to Exist ...'	73
	The central role of cinema	73
	The rise of television	86
	Popular music: the essence of the cultural revolution	91
9	Art: Modernist Programmes and Personal Visions	101
10	Underground and Overground	115
PART III The Return of Gradgrind: 1977–1990
11	The End of Consensus	135
12	Chariots on Fire	148
13	Not Without Renown: Art, Music and Architecture	157
14	From Ink to Inc.	170
15	Conclusion: A Decent Record?	186
Appendix Television National Top Thirties for Week Ended 14 January 1990		189
Further Reading		192
Index		196