

COMMUNICATION AND DOMINATION:
ESSAYS TO HONOR
HERBERT I. SCHILLER

Edited by

Jörg Becker

Marburg University, West Germany

Göran Hedebro

University of Stockholm, Sweden

Leena Paldán

Tampere University, Finland

ABLEX PUBLISHING CORPORATION
NORWOOD, NEW JERSEY

Contents

Introduction viii

Part I	The Formative Functions of Information Technology	1
1.	Jan Ekecrantz The social construction of technology: Notes on railroads and computers	5
2.	Cees J. Hamelink Is information technology neutral?	16
3.	Robin Cheesman Can people use information technology?	25
4.	Neville Jayaweera The Third World and the political economy of the communication revolution	30
5.	Eapen K. Eapen Transfer of technology: The INSAT experience	45
Part 2	Information, International Relations, and Warfare	53
6.	Tapio Varis Patterns of television program flow in international relations	55
7.	Dallas W. Smythe On the political economy of C ³ I	66
8.	Vincent Mosco New technology and space warfare	76
Part 3	Modes of Cultural Domination and Resistance	85
9.	Stuart Ewen Youth culture	89
10.	Dieter Prokop Towards a psychoanalytical critique of mass communication	96
11.	Maolsheachlainn ó Caollai Cultural domination in Europe: The case of Ireland	104

12.	Ngugi wa Thiong'o Kenyan culture: The national struggle for survival	114
13.	Tran Van Dinh and Rosemary Porter Is the concept of national sovereignty outdated?	120
Part 4 The New Information Order: Struggles and Reconsiderations		129
14.	Wolfgang Kleinwächter Freedom or responsibility versus freedom and responsibility	133
15.	Enrique Gonzalez Manet Will UNESCO be crippled?	143
16.	Yassen N. Zassoursky The future of the debate on the new international information order and the intergovernmental programme for the development of communication	154
17.	William H. Melody and Rohan Samarajiwa Canada's contradictions on the new international information order	160
18.	Rafael Roncagliolo New information order in Latin America: A Taxonomy for national communication policies	168
19.	Kaarle Nordenstreng Tanzania and the new information order: A case study of Africa's second struggle	177
Part 5 Reconstructing Information Patterns and Practices		193
20.	Breda Pavlič Non-alignment and communication: looking ahead	197
21.	Raquel Salinas Bascur Latin American communication policies: New battles around the old issues	207
22.	Ian Reinecke Information technology in Australia: The trade union response	215
23.	Olga Linné Why do female media professionals produce male messages?	222
Part 6 Meeting the Future: Research and Action		231
24.	George Gerbner The challenge before us	233

25.	James D. Halloran
	International democratization of communication: the challenge for research	241
26.	Stuart Ewen
	BILLBOARDS of the FUTURE: A brief history	249
	Publications of Herbert I. Schiller from 1955 to 1984	259
	Editors and Contributors	265
	Author Index	273
	Subject Index	276