

Money, Time, & Politics

Ronald F. King

Investment Tax Subsidies & American Democracy

Yale University Press
New Haven & London

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 1

I The Logic of Tax Politics

- 1 The Limits of Zero-Sum Logic 11
- 2 An Asymmetric; Non-Zero-Sum Logic 47

II From Zero-Sum to Non-Zero-Sum Logic:

The Transformation of American Tax Politics, 1894 to 1960

- 3 The Short Life of Zero-Sum Redistribution 89
- 4 The Establishment of Non-Zero-Sum Political Economy 119

III Growthmanship in the New Frontier

- 5 The Macroeconomics of Market Stimulation 153
- 6 Fiscal Redistribution in Two Dimensions 190
- 7 The Politics of Non-Zero-Sum Democracy 226

IV Class Interests and Distributional Bargaining:

The Investment Tax Credit of 1962

- 8 Business and the Bargaining over the Forms of Subsidization 261
- 9 Labor and the Bargaining over Payoff Reassurances 292

V The Breakdown of Intertemporal Coalition

- 10 The Nixon Reversals: The Failure of Short-Run Distributional Payoffs 323
- 11 The Ford Retrenchment: The Failure of Conservative Growthmanship 354
- 12 The Carter Requiem: The Failure of Liberal Accord 387

Conclusion: Continuity and Change for the Postwar Regime 430

Notes 451

Index 526