

Devaluation under Pressure: India,
Indonesia, and Ghana

David B. H. Denoon

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

- Preface ix
- 1 The Issues 1
- The Problems of Devaluation 1
 - Purpose of This Book 4
 - The Central Hypotheses and a Framework for Analysis 6
 - The Questions to Be Addressed 9
 - Stages in a Devaluation Episode 16
 - Why Analyze Devaluations under Pressure? 20
 - Why Select These Cases? 21
 - Ongoing Problem 24
- 2 India: Expectations Shattered 25
- The Nehru and Shastri Legacy 26
 - Stage 1: The Arena 29
 - Stage 2: Bureaucratic Politics 38
 - Stage 3: The Prime Minister's Decision 46
 - Stage 4: Implementation: Constraints Dominate 48
 - Conclusion: Quietly Slip the Check under the Door? 51
 - Appendix 2A Chronology of the Key Events Related to the 1966 Indian Rupee Devaluation 53
 - Appendix 2B The Bell Mission Report 72
 - Appendix 2C The Woods-Mehta Agreement 75
 - Appendix 2D Aid Statistics and List of Interviews Conducted on the 1966 Rupee Devaluation 77
- 3 Indonesia: Stabilization Reinforced 87
- The Argument 89

Transition: Suharto's Search for Order	93
Stage 1: The Aid Arena Is Set	95
The Technocratic Pattern Emerges	98
Stage 2: Bureaucratic Politics: Elegant Shadowboxing	102
Stage 3: The Presidential Decision	108
Stage 4: Implementation: Economic Policymaking with Limited Constraints	110
Summary and Conclusions	113
Appendix 3A Chronology of Indonesia's Aid Relationships and Key Events Leading to the April 1971 Rupiah Devaluation	114
Appendix 3B Evolution of the BE System 1966–1970	137
Appendix 3C Interviews on the 1970 Indonesian Devaluation	142
4 Ghana: Hidden Disarray	145
Ghana When the Cheering Stopped	145
The Busia Setting	152
Stage 1: The Arena Takes Shape	155
Stage 2: Maneuvering for Resources	158
Stage 3: Busia's Decision	163
Stage 4: Implementation	165
Conclusions: Ghana—The Brittle Polity	168
Appendix 4A Chronology of the 1971 Ghanaian Devaluation and Related Subsequent Events	170
Appendix 4B Financial Assistance to Ghana	191
Appendix 4C Interviews Conducted	192
5 Conclusions	195
Patterns in Devaluation Under Pressure	195
The Hypotheses and Political Dynamics	207
How Do Circumstances Today Differ from These Three Historical Cases?	211
Increasing the Likelihood of a Devaluation's Success	215
Notes	221
Bibliography	247
Index	255