
The Decline of Military Regimes

The Civilian Influence

EDITED BY

Constantine P. Danopoulos

Westview Press
BOULDER & LONDON

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
About the Editor and Contributors	xi
1 Military Dictatorships in Retreat: Problems and Perspectives, Constantine P. Danopoulos	1
2 Obstacles to Disengagement and Democratization: Military Regimes in Benin and Burkina Faso, Claude E. Welch, Jr.	25
3 After the Coup: South Korea Creates a New Political Order, C.I. Eugene Kim	45
4 Polish Soldiers in Politics: The Party in Uniform? Robin Alison Remington	75
5 Contemporary Civil-Military Relations Theory and De-Intervention: The Case of Panama, David Lewis Feldman	105
6 The Politics of Disengagement in Turkey: The Kemalist Tradition, James Brown	131
7 Back to the Barracks: The Brazilian Military's Style, Edmundo Campos Coelho	147
8 A Postmortem of the Institutional Military Regime in Peru, Carlos A. Astiz	171
9 Withdrawal in Disgrace: Decline of the Argentine Military, 1976–1983, Dennis R. Gordon	199
10 Beating a Hasty Retreat: The Greek Military Withdraws from Power, Constantine P. Danopoulos	225
11 Withdrawal and After: A One-Way Street or a Revolving Door? Constantine P. Danopoulos	259
Index	269