

The New Ethnic Studies in Latin America

Edited by

Raanan Rein
Stefan Rinke
Nadia Zysman

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Acknowledgments VII

List of Contributors VIII

1 Introduction 1

Raanan Rein, Stefan Rinke and Nadia Zysman

2 Remaking Ethnic Studies in the Age of Identities 7

Jeffrey Lesser

3 Factory, Workshop, and Homework: A Spatial Dimension of Labor
Flexibility among Jewish Migrants in the Early Stages of Industrialization in Buenos Aires 16

Nadia Zysman

4 Becoming Polacos: Landsmanshaftn and the Making of a Polish-Jewish
Sub-ethnicity in Argentina 32

Mariusz Kaczeviak

5 Ethnicity and Federalism in Latin America: Rethinking the National Experience of Jews and Middle Eastern Descendants in Argentina 52

Mauricio Dimant

6 "For an Arab There Can Be Nothing Better Than Another Arab": Nation,
Ethnicity and Citizenship in Peronist Argentina 78

Ariel Noyjovich and Raanan Rein

7 Otherness in Convergence: Arabs, Jews, and the Formation of the Chilean Middle Classes, 1930–1960 99

Claudia Stern

8 The Untold History: Voices of Non-affiliated Jews in Chile,
1940–1990 128

Valeria Navarro-Rosenblatt

9 The Other as a Mirror: Representation of Jews and Palestinians on Argentinian and Chilean Television Screens 148

Gabriela Jonas Aharoni

- 10 In the Land of Vitzliputzli: German-Speaking Jews in Latin America 166
Liliana Ruth Feierstein
- 11 Epilogue: The Centesimal Nisman 185
David M. K. Sheinin
- Index 201