COTTON IS THE MOTHER OF POVERTY

PEASANTS, WORK, AND RURAL STRUGGLE IN COLONIAL MOZAMBIQUE, 1938–1961

Allen Isaacman
CONTENTS

List of Maps, Tables, and Graphs ................................................................. ix
Acknowledgements ................................................................................. xi

Part I  The Setting

1 Introduction .......................................................................................... 1
2 The Antecedents and Formation of the Mozambican Cotton Regime, 1800–1938 ............................. 19

Part II  Cotton and Rural Labor, 1938–1951

3 Cotton, Colonialism, and Work .......................................................... 38
4 Variations in the Cotton Regime ......................................................... 70
5 Peasants at Work: Marketing and Ginning .................................... 105

Part III  The Era of Reform, 1951–1961

6 Reforming the System: Rationalizing the Labor Process .......... 124

Part IV  Long-Term Consequences, 1938–1961

7 Cotton and Food Insecurity ................................................................. 150
8 Cotton and Rural Differentiation ...................................................... 171
9 Coping with the Demands of Cotton ............................................ 192
10 Cotton, the Labor Process, and Rural Protest ............................ 205

Conclusion ............................................................................................ 238
Sources .................................................................................................. 244
Appendix A  Concessionary Companies in Mozambique, 1950s .... 261
Appendix B Cotton Production Statistics,
    Select Southern Circumscriptions, 1940s................................. 262
Appendix C Marketed Products,
    Macomia Circumscription, 1946–1959 ...................................... 263
Appendix D Marketed Products,
    Nampula Circumscription, 1943–1959 ...................................... 264
Appendix E Marketed Products,
    Morrumbala Circumscription, 1943–1959 ................................. 265
Appendix F Marketed Products,
    Mogovolas Circumscription, 1943–1959 ................................. 266
Index ......................................................................................... 267