THE CONSTRUCTION OF COMMUNITIES IN THE EARLY MIDDLE AGES

Texts, Resources and Artefacts

EDITED BY

RICHARD CORRADINI
MAX DIESENBERGER
HELMUT REIMITZ

BRILL
LEIDEN · BOSTON
2003

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments vii
List of plates, figures, and tables ix

The construction of communities and the persistence of paradox: an introduction 1
Walter Pohl

Structures and resources of power in early medieval Europe 17
Dick Harrison

Gens. Terminology and perception of the 'Germanic' peoples from late Antiquity to the early Middle Ages 39
Hans-Werner Goetz

The refugees and evacuees in the age of migrations 65
Wolf Liebeschuetz

The 'gold hoards' of the early migration period in south-eastern Europe and the late Roman Empire 81
Michael Schmauder

The nomad's greed for gold: from the fall of the Burgundians to the Avar treasure 95
Matthias Hardt

Alaricus rex: legitimizing a Gothic king 109
Hagith Sivan

Changes in the topography of power: from civitates to urbes regiae in Hispania 123
Gisela Ripoll

Deconstructing the Merovingian family 149
Ian Wood

Hair, sacrality and symbolic capital in the Frankish kingdoms 173
Maximilian Diesenberger

The ritual significance of vessels in the formation of Merovingian christian communities 213
Bonnie Effros

Social networks and identities in Frankish historiography. New aspects of the textual history of Gregory of Tours' Historiae 229
Helmut Reimitz

The rhetoric of crisis. Computus and Liber annalis in early ninth-century Fulda 269
Richard Corradini

The History of Ibn Habib and ethnogenesis in Al-Andalus 323
Ann Christys

Abbreviations 349

Bibliography 351

Index 397

Notes on Contributors 415