

NINA WITOSZEK

The Origins of the “Regime of Goodness”:
Remapping the Cultural
History of Norway

Universitetsforlaget

Contents

| | | |
|--------------|---|-----|
| Chapter I | The Architecture of Utopia | 7 |
| Chapter II | The Anti-Romantic Romantics: Nature, Culture and Ideology in Nineteenth- Century Norway | 26 |
| Chapter III | “Ecohumanism” | 50 |
| Chapter IV | The Norwegian Pastoral Enlightenment: the “Idiocy of Rural Life” Revisited. | 60 |
| Chapter V | From the Berserkers to the Peace Brokers | 86 |
| Chapter VI | Askeladden, or the Norwegian “Tao” | 108 |
| Chapter VII | The Great Good Place: Inside and Outside in Ibsen and Munch | 123 |
| Chapter VIII | Nature as Sacrum: the Case of Vigeland | 145 |
| Chapter IX | The Ecological Gothic of Knut Hamsun | 166 |
| Chapter X | The Hazards of Goodness: the Legacy of Bjørnson and Nansen | 186 |
| Chapter XI | Arne Næss’s Ecological Utopia | 212 |