

International Perspectives on the Gulf Conflict, 1990–91

Edited by

Alex Danchev

*Professor of International Relations
Keele University*

and

Dan Keohane

*Lecturer in International Relations
Keele University*

M

St. Martin's Press

in association with
St. Antony's College, Oxford

Contents

List of Tables	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on the Contributors	ix
Introduction: The Rules of Propriety Alex Danchev and Dan Keohane	xi
1 Regional Politics and the Conflict Shahram Chubin	1
2 Calculation and Miscalculation in Baghdad Amatzia Baram	23
3 Israel and the Conflict Avi Shlaim	59
4 Palestinian Perspectives on the Conflict Anoushiravan Ehteshami	80
5 US Policy in the Conflict Richard K. Herrmann	106
6 Soviet Policy in the Conflict Vladimir Nosenko	136
7 British Policy in the Conflict Dan Keohane	145
8 French Policy in the Conflict Jolyon Howorth	175
9 The Theory of Limited War Lawrence Freedman	201
10 The Air War Edward Luttwak	224
11 The Laws of War Adam Roberts	259
12 The Conflict in Comparative Perspective Oliver Ramsbotham	295
Index	325