

Strategy and Structure of Enterprise in a Developing Country

CHI. B. ANYANSI-ARCHIBONG
University of Kansas

Avebury

Aldershot · Brookfield USA · Hong Kong · Singapore · Sydney

Contents

List of figures	viii
List of tables	x
Abbreviations	xii
Preface	xiii
Foreword	xv
1 Introduction	1
Developing country	1
Culture	2
Strategy and structure	3
Appendix 1.A Research development	8
Appendix 1.B Background and functions of the Centre for Management Development (Nigeria)	17
Appendix 1.C Research methodology	25
Appendix 1.D The relationships between patterns of organizational development, socio-economic variables and firms' growth	40
Appendix 1.E Corporate Development Questionnaire (early version)	42
Appendix 1.F Stages in evolution: matrix of interview summary	46
Appendix 1.G Evolution of Firms Study: Corporate Development Questionnaire (later version)	48

2 Models of organization strategy and structure	50
Introduction	50
Stages of organizational development	50
Profiles of family firms	61
Family firms: definition	62
Conflict resolution mechanisms	67
Appendix 2.A A taxonomy of family life	71
3 Macro-environments of Nigeria	73
Introduction	73
The social environment	74
Economic/industrial environment	81
Predictions and directions for Nigerian business and industry	88
Summary and conclusions	89
Appendix 3.A Nigerian Enterprises Promotion Amendment Act 1982	97
Appendix 3.B Economic Stabilization (Temporary Provisions) Import and Export Prohibition Order 1983	103
Appendix 3.C Incentives to invest in Nigeria	122
Appendix 3.D Contributions of industries to Nigeria's gross domestic product	135
Appendix 3.E Industrial classification of major companies in Nigeria	137
4 The evolution pattern of Nigerian enterprises	138
Introduction	138
Stages in pre-enterprise development	139
Stages in the evolution of enterprises	143
Company characteristics	150
Summary and conclusions	153
Appendix 4.A Degrees of diversification	158
Appendix 4.B Organizational structure	159
Appendix 4.C Legal forms of companies in Nigeria	160
5 Remote and internal environmental factors in strategy and structure development	162
Introduction	162
Family 'constellation'	163
Factors and levels of influence	166
Summary	172

Appendix 5.A Tracing the influence of family on evolution patterns of the Ntiki Group of Companies	177
Appendix 5.B Project finance and the Nigerian capital market	180
Appendix 5.C Companies, their major industries and organizational charts	188
6 Management in Nigeria	202
Introduction	202
Entrepreneurship/opportunity management	202
Adaptive/adoptive practices	203
Family focus interface/conflict management	203
Women entrepreneurs and retail activities	215
Summary	219
Appendix 6.A Guide to Second-tier Foreign Exchange Market (SFEM)	223
7 Comparative management practices	233
Introduction	233
Findings and related theories	233
Management problems in developing countries	242
8 Towards a developing country-oriented management theory: Nigerian case	244
Introduction	244
Management styles	245
Developing a management theory	246
Conclusions	252
Bibliography	255
Index	265