

NATO in the 1990s

Edited by

STANLEY R. SLOAN

With a foreword by

SENATOR WILLIAM V. ROTH, JR.

CHAIRMAN, NORTH ATLANTIC ASSEMBLY SPECIAL
PRESIDENTIAL COMMITTEE ON NATO IN THE 1990s

Published with the cooperation of the North Atlantic Assembly

PERGAMON-BRASSEY'S
International Defense Publishers, Inc.

Washington · New York · London · Oxford
Beijing · Frankfurt · São Paulo · Sydney · Tokyo · Toronto

Contents

Foreword, vii

Preface, xi

Committee on NATO in the 1990s, xiii

Part I NATO in the 1990s, 1

1. Summary Conclusions and Recommendations, 1
2. Report on NATO in the 1990s, 9

Part II The Past as Prologue, 41

3. The First Forty Years, 43
A. W. DEPORTE
4. The United States and NATO: Enduring Interests and Negotiable Bargains, 81
CATHERINE MCARDLE KELLEHER
5. Is NATO Still in Europe's Interest?, 105
MICHAEL STUERMER

Part III The Contemporary Setting, 127

6. The New Soviet Foreign Policy Approach: Challenges to and Opportunities for the West, 129
DIMITRI K. SIMES
7. Public Opinion and the Alliance: European and American
Perspectives on NATO and European Security, 143
STEPHEN F. SZABO

Part IV Challenges and Opportunities, 173

8. Defense Burdensharing: European and Canadian
Contributions to NATO's Defenses, 175
DAVID GREENWOOD

9. Measuring U.S. Contributions to NATO Defense, 193
LAWRENCE KORB
10. European Defense Cooperation and NATO's Future, 209
FRANÇOIS HEISBOURG
11. Rebuild or Decay: The Future of the European Security System
(A French Perspective), 235
PIERRE LELLOUCHE
12. The Future of NATO's Deterrent Posture: Nuclear Weapons and Arms Control, 263
LAWRENCE FREEDMAN
13. The Future of NATO's Deterrent Posture: An American
Perspective, 283
R. JAMES WOOLSEY
14. Conventional Arms Control and NATO'S Future, 299
KARL KAISER
15. NATO's Future: The Out-of-Area Problem, 315
ROBERT E. HUNTER

Index, 335

About the Editor and the Contributors, 345